Novato Driver Dies In Sonoma Auto Wreckage

Small Car Fails To Make Curve; Funeral Held

Frank Walter Zachary, 60, of 1603 Hotchkin Drive, Novato, was killed about 1:45 p.m. Saturday when his car failed to negotiate a curve and hit a tree in Sonoma County.

Zachary's small imported car failed to make a curve on Highway 12 about four and one-half miles south of Arnold Drive, north of Sonoma, according to the California Highway Patrol.

DID NOT FOLLOW

Witnesses in cars behind the Zachary car said that it did not follow the curve or slow down. It hit the tree with such force the engine was knocked out of the car.

Donald Noriel of the Sonoma County coroner's office said an autopsy showed that death was caused by a hemorrhage from a rupture in the heart caused by the accident. there was no evidence of a stroke or heart attack prior to the accident, he said.

Zachary was employed as a heavy equipment operator by Maggiora and Ghilotti, Inc., of Corte Madera. He had lived in Marin County for 25 years and earlier resided in Kalispell, Mont. He was born in Arvada, Wyo.

He was a member of the Operating Engineers Union Local 3, and a past member of the San Rafael Elks Lodge.

SERVICES HELD

He is survived by his wife, Evelyn M. Zachary of the home; a daughter, Mrs. Richard Gudel of Tahoe City; his mother, Mrs. Libby Zachary of Vallejo; two sisters, Mrs. Edna Sutton of Junction City, Ore., and Mrs. Winifred Crawford of Vallejo; a brother, Bob Zachary of Kalispell, Mont., three grandchildren, and four great-grandchildren.

Private funeral was held today at the Redwood Chapel Funeral Home in Novato. Inurnment was private. Memorial contributions to Boy's Town in Omaha, Neb., would be appreciated by the family.

Hoffa Jury Tampering Conviction Is Affirmed

High Court Action Likely Means Jail

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Supreme Court today affirmed the jury tampering conviction of Teamster President James R. Hoffa, making it all but certain the powerful union leader must go to jail.

The Court turned down Hoffa's appeal from the 1964 conviction which was based on a claim that one of his close associates had served as a government informer during an earlier trial.

It still is possible for Hoffa to appeal to the Supreme Court for reconsideration of its decision. But this would be mainly a momentary delaying tactic, inasmuch as the court virtually never rehears a case.

The Justice Department had told the court that a reversal would "seriously hamper the government's use of informers" in prosecuting crimes such as espionage and narcotics violations.

Justice Potter Stewart, who wrote the court's opinion, said "the use of secret informers is not per se unconstitutional," although they are not "to the slightest degree more free from all relevent constitutional restrictions than is any other government agent."

The ruling apparently means that nothing now stands in the way of Hoffa being sent to the penitentiary on the jury-fixing conviction as soon as the Supreme Court's mandate reaches the lower court where he was tried.

ALLIED CASE

In an allied case, the Supreme Court upheld the jury-tampering conviction of Nashville Attorney Z. T. Osborn Jr. in connection with Hoffa's trial.

Osborn, 46, one of Nashville's most prominent lawyers, was sentenced to three and a half years in jail and fined $50,000 in federal court there.

The vote against his appeal was 8 to 0, with Justice Byron R. White not participating. Stewart also wrote the Osborn opinion.

The Osborn conviction came about after a Nashville policeman, Robert B. Vick, reported to the FBI that Osborn was trying through intermediaries to contact prospective members of the Hoffa jury.

NO COMMENT

Hoffa received news of the court's action in his Washington office. A spokesman said he would have no comment.

The Teamster Chief was sentenced to eight years in prison and fined $10,000 after

Legislature Due Georgia Decision

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The Supreme Court ruled today that the Georgia Legislature can decide the deadlocked governorship race between Democrat Lester C. Maddox and Republican Howard M. Callaway.

The 5-4 decision reversed the finding of a lower federal court which barred the Legislature from picking between the two. It also strongly enhances Maddox's chances of being installed as governor.

The majority opinion was delivered by Justice Hugo L. Black.

"Article Five of Georgia's Constitution provides a method for selecting the governor which is as old as the nation itself. Georgia does not violate the equal protection clause (of the U. S. Constitution) by following this article as it was written."

Dissenting were Chief Justice Earl Warren and Justices William O. Douglas, William J. Brennan Jr. and Abe Fortas.

Because of a 6 per cent write-in vote for former Gov. Ellis G. Arnall in the Nov. 8 election, neither Callaway, a GOP Congressman, nor Maddox, received the majority required by the state's 142-year-old Constitution.

If the Georgia Legislature elects the governor, Maddox is expected to win, since Democrats control the body.

The Court acted with unusual speed in the Georgia case because of its immediate political ramifications. Arguments were held only a week ago. In normal circumstances, the court holds cases under advisement for months.

'Dangerous' Felon Loose In Bay Area

More than 100 Marines, FBI agents, highway patrolmen, policemen and sheriff's deputies searched Moffett Naval Air Station without luck for Vincent Paul Kucenski Jr., 23, Mishawaka, Ind.

Authorities said Kucenski and George Edward Donnelly Jr., 22, Houston, Tex., fled from the prison Friday. Donnelly, serving an indeterminate sentence for car theft, surrendered to Lompoc police early Saturday.

18-YEAR SENTENCE

Kucenski, serving an 18-year sentence for armed bank robbery committed in Indiana, apparently assaulted Rex Johnson, Lompoc, an off-duty guard at the federal facility, and stole his 1964 sports car.

Two highway patrolmen spotted the car traveling at a high speed along Bayshore Freeway, 250 miles north of the prison, early yesterday. They gave chase and the car crashed into a fence at the Navy base located at the southwest end of San Francisco Bay.

FLEES BAREFOOT

The driver, presumed by the FBI to be Kucenski, fled barefooted into the Moffett Field area. The Highway Patrol said impact of the collision apparently knocked the shoes of Kucenski.

Johnson, who left his home Saturday night to get a package of cigarettes, was found lying on a road near Orcutt north of Lompoc in Santa Barbara County, clad only in underwear. He underwent surgery for a skull fracture and was reported in critical condition.

Authorities theorized Johnson probably spotted the escaper in his khaki trousers and shirt walking along the roadway and stopped his car. Police believe Johnson was beaten up by Kucenski who took his clothes and discarded the prison garb.

APPARENTLY HID

Charles Tennison, federal control center officer, said the two escapers apparently hid themselves in a trash truck that passed out of the prison gates without inspection.

The institution is in the medium security class.

Later last night, search for Kucenski was broadened to include other areas of the lower Peninsula. Residents were asked not to attempt to apprehend the escaper who authorities said may be armed "and highly dangerous."

Supply Line Entrance Hit By B-52s

SAIGON (UPI)—B-52 strategic bombers protected by swarms of U.S. fighters bombed the North Vietnam entrance to the Ho Chi Minh supply trail today while in the South U.S. jets and helicopters destroyed two flotillas of junks ferrying food and arms to Mekong Delta Viet Cong.

The high-flying B-52s made their eighth raid against North Vietnam to bomb the Mu Gia Pass through which Hanoi funnels men and arms into South Vietnam via the Ho Chi Minh Trail. They struck as informed sources in Saigon disclosed Russia had sent Hanoi another 100 MIGS—doubling the size of the Communist air force.

American jets and helicopters attacked the flotillas of Communist junks in the delta south of Saigon in a stepped up campaign to choke off supplies. They sank 63 in two battles, striking so fast and so often they had to return for fuel to strike again.

No Tribunal Review On Baseball Suit

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court refused today to review baseball's immunity from antitrust law.

The effect of the court's action is to leave standing a ruling by the Wisconsin Supreme Court that baseball's immunity from federal antitrust law leaves Wisconsin powerless to enforce its own antitrust law against the sport.

The Wisconsin Supreme Court decision was given in litigation over the shift of the National League's Milwaukee Braves to Atlanta after the 1965 season.

Brown Makes Another Court Appointment

Dow Wilson's Son Attacks Max Ward

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Scott Wilson, 24-year-old son of assassinated Painters Union leader Dow Wilson, today attacked Max Ward—one of two men convicted in the Wilson slaying — in superior court, police said.

There were conflicting reports on the attack. Police said they understood that young Wilson stabbed Ward. Other reports said Wilson slugged Ward in the face, breaking his glasses and bloodying his nose.

Wilson's father was killed by a shotgun blast April 5.

Ward and Norman Call, both Sacramento painting contractors and management trustees of the Painters Union welfare fund, have been convicted of murder in Wilson's slaying.

Bailiffs took young Wilson into custody in the courtroom at the Hall of Justice.

Ward was in court after he had waived jury trial on the sentence phase of his trial. He was sentenced to life imprisonment by Judge Elkington.

PLAYWRIGHT OUT

Dramatic Setting As Cluchey Leaves

By JOHN F. KEARNEY

The setting was straight out of any of a hundred plays about prison life.

The prison inmate turns his back on the cell which has been his home for 11 years and, bracing himself against the cold wind, walks through the gates of San Quentin and to freedom.

Only today it was different. Rich Cluchey, 33, who wrote a play about prison while in San Quentin, was being released on parole.

Once through the gates, he was center stage and the spotlight of publicity was turned full on. His reception had an almost theatrical quality.

He was asked to pose lighting a cigar in front of the $22,000 Rolls Royce Silver Dawn which Lee Bart, president of the San Quentin chapter of the Seven Step Foundation, had driven up to meet him.

Television and radio reporters zeroed in on him. To one he said: "I want to write about prison as it really is.

"Prison is a man dying in a cell, crying for help but no one can reach him because the door is locked."

To another microphone he said: "Hollywood producer Richard Brooks is trying to contact me. I would very much like to play a part in the filming of "In Cold Blood!"

While in prison, Cluchey wrote "Le Cage," a play which was acclaimed by critics and proved a passport to freedom.

Sentenced to life without possibility of parole for armed robbery, Cluchey eventually had the term commuted to one where parole would be permissable.

He called prison life" terrible isolation," but could hardly complain about his treatment today. "Perhaps my story will get through to the many friends I have left behind on the inside," he said.

"I feel I would be letting them down if I didn't work to help them get rehabilitated through the Seven Step Foundation."

He was to be guest of honor at a luncheon in San Francisco attended by former San Quentin Warden Clinton T. Duffy and Bill Sands, founder and national president of the Seven Step Foundation.

Fellow inmate and close friend, Larry Dotson, smiled across at Cluchey, who was being interviewed before yet another television camera.

"He'll need the help of Seven Steps," he said. "After the first week it's going to feel like hell."

Castro Reveals U.S. Made Secret Missile Crisis Pact

CHICAGO (UPI)—The United States made a secret deal with Cuba and the Soviet Union during the 1962 Cuban missile crisis, according to Cuban Premier Fidel Castro.

Castro told author Lee Lockwood in a copyrighted interview published today in Playboy magazine that the United States pledged it would not invade Cuba and made other agreements still secret.

CONCESSIONS

"I can say to you that even more agreements exist besides, about which not a word has ever been said...one day, perhaps, it will be known that the United States made some other concessions in relation to the October crisis besides those that were made public."

Castro said the United States had made "de facto" recognition of its pledge against invading Cuba, despite Cuba's refusal to allow international inspection to confirm removal of Soviet missiles on the island.

BY LETTER

The secret agreement "was not an agreement in accord with protocol," Castro told the interviewer, but were made by letter through diplomatic channels.

While denying the secret concessions had to do with U-2 spy plane flights, Castro said, "I have no objection to declaring that those weapons (surface to surface missiles) do not exist in Cuba. Unfortunately there are none."

MISSILE REPORT

The Cuban premier, who said he might not have been able to win power had he revealed during the revolution that he was a Communist, said he had no regrets about accepting the Soviet missiles.

"All of us were advocates of keeping the missiles in Cuba... we would have preferred a more satisfactory solution with the participation of Cuba in the discussions . . . but it would have been at the cost of a complete break with the Soviet Union and that would have been really absurd on our part."

Castro said he considered former Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev acted high handedly in failing to consult Cuba during the crisis, dealing instead directly with President Kennedy.

In answering other questions, Castro told Lockwood that he hopes to retire after " a few more years."

AIDE WELL

Che Guevara, Castro's right-hand man during the revolution who has dropped out of sight, is "alive and well," Castro said, adding Che's whereabouts are kept secret "because it would be unwise, possibly unsafe for him. When he is ready and wants it to be known where he is, we will tell it first to the cuban people."

The Iphigenia was en route from Montreal, Canada, to Curacae to load.

THE PEOPLE'S SCHOOLS

By BRYCE W. ANDERSON

Teachers, Public Cast Stones That Build Ever-Higher Invisible Wall

It is small wonder if today's public school teacher feels himself a member of a minority more severely persecuted than the Negro in Alabama or the Moslem in India.

A veritable army of assorted zealots, it appears, is plotting in kaffee klatsches, snooping into his private life, and fine-toothing the textbooks for improper or unpatriotic words. He is told by his state board of education to teach about communism, and attacked by a well-organized right wing if he mentions communism in other than damning terms. The Declaration of Independence has long been suspect, and he now finds the Bible a dangerous thing to read in class.

THE EMBATTLED SCHOOL TEACHER, through his organizations, fights back as best he can. His principal weapon is the legislative lobby; his principal allies, the accreditation societies and the teachers' colleges.

An invisible wall separates the teacher from the public. The Parent-Teacher Assns., designed to prevent any such wall from arising, find themselves occupied with planning events for the kiddies or campaigning for bonds and taxes to build more school buildings and hire more teachers and education specialists. The teacher who wishes to take his case before the public fears all avenues are closed by suspicion.

THIS INVISIBLE WALL was many years in building. And not all its transparent stones were placed by foes of the schools, or even by people outside the schools. Teachers and public, both deeply concerned with the welfare of the children, have built the wall unwittingly.

Teachers placed stones in this wall by insistence that no one who has not taken certain courses in education is competent to judge the quality of textbook or of classroom lecture — even though he may be an expert in the subject with which text and lecture deal. They placed other stones by adopting a sort of official language in which words have meanings different from those found in the dictionary. And as they bristled at attacks on the schools, they added other stones by an attitude of defensive isolation.

THE PUBLIC HELPED erect the wall by screaming in panic at every indication that the schools were not succeeding 100 per cent in educating everyone to a level of excellence which few can fairly be expected to reach. Each public movement aimed at improvement of the schools, it seemed, was taken over by fanatics who would tear down the house to repair a leaky faucet. With open communication between teachers and parents closed by unrealistic restrictions, school board bumbling and the cloudy terminology of "educanto" on the one hand, and by ill-considered demands for panaceas and a lack of understanding of educational problems on the other, the wall rose higher and higher.

THE TRAGEDY IS THAT the wall has been erected for the most part by the very persons —both teachers and parents— most interested in good schools. The remainder of the public (probably a sizable majority) is uninterested. This uninterested mass presents the real threat to education, but it is the deeply interested minority that has helped create a tension which pits teacher against public.

The invisible wall prevents full and free communication between the community and its schools — a circumstance that is the more tragic, and the harder to understand, because it exists in an area of communication itself; for teaching is, in essence, but the communication of knowledge and ideas. How is it that the very people who are employed in communicating knowledge and ideas to the children are unable to communicate with those children's parents?

THE ANSWER IS doubtless tremendously complicated. But it needs to be found.

Search Is Called Off In Sailboat Accident

LONG BEACH (AP)— The Coast Guard has discontinued its search for four persons believed lost at sea following the sinking of a sailboat last Monday off the coast of Acapulco, Mexico.

A spokesman said the U. S. Coast Guard and Mexican Navy discontinued the search last weekend after planes and ships scoured an area 50 to 60 miles from Acapulco.

The four, believed to have died, were aboard a sailboat skippered by David E. Smith, 46, of Merced.

The Coast Guard said Smith was picked up by a Greek freighter last Friday, after he was spotted floating on a small raft. He is being taken to Balboa, in the Canal Zone, and is expected to arrive Tuesday.

The Coast Guard said Smith told crewmen that his sailboat, en route to Long Beach from Gulfport, Miss., was rammed by a large vessel during the darkness last Monday night, and that apparently no one on the ramming vessel was aware of the incident. Smith said his son, Mony, died while clinging to the raft, and that three others swam away. They were believed to have been Bill Ringos, Gill Fordy and Richard Marshard, addresses unknown, the Coast Guard said.

The Coast Guard said it plans a routine investigation, pending a jurisdictional decision, when Smith reaches Balboa.

WAR

special new lighting system designed to spot night smugglers spied a fleet of the sampans in a network of canals in the Rung Sat Zone, 10 miles southwest of Saigon, early today.

Officials said there were so many junks and sampans the helicopters made several trips back to their base at Bien Hoa for more fuel and ammunition.

The second attack was carried out 125 miles south of Saigon by U.S. Supersabre jets and Vietnamese Air Force Skyraiders which sank 21 sampans. They also killed 10 guerrillas and destroyed 35 Communist structures.

American troops are expected to move into the Mekong Delta in force in the near future to try to break the hold of the Viet Cong who have dominated the densely populated area for years. Previously the South Vietnamese have tried unsuccessfully to root them out.

Informed sources in Saigon said the Kremlin sent a mixture of the older MIG 19 jets and the latest delta winged MIG21s, the fastest plane in the Communist arsenal. It is considered a deadly plane, armed with day-night search radar and AW1 air-to-air missiles.

Addition of the new MIG21s meant the cost of the air war against North Vietnam would rise steeply. The Defense Department already had estimated that 540 American planes would fall to Communist firepower during the year ending next June 30. That number now may be revised upward at a cost of $2 to $3 million per plane.

The remainder of the U.S. 199th Light Infantry Brigade meanwhile arrived today at Vung Tau aboard the naval transport Pope following a 21-day trip from Oakland, Calif. First units of the 1,400 man brigade arrived Saturday. The new arrivals boosts U.S. troop strength in Vietnam towards the 285,000 mark.

Safe Crackers Leave Money

Safe crackers, who must have fled in a hurry, took a 40-pound safe door with them and left several hundred dollars in currency and coins scattered on the floor af the West Novato Shell Service Station at Wilson Avenue and Novato Boulevard, according to Novato police.

The burglars broke a window into the station, probably between 1 and 5 a. m., today, according to police Sgt. Otto Haiungs. They pounded off the hinges of the safe and then pried open the door, he said. They took about $250 in cash but dropped about $750 on the floor when they left.

Resuscitator Call For Elderly Person

being convicted in Chattanooga, Tenn., of trying to rig a Nashville jury before which he was being tried on conspiracy charges in 1962. The 1962 trial, known informally as the test fleet case, ended in a hung jury.

Chief Justice Earl Warren dissented from today's ruling. Justices Byron R. White and Abe Fortas did not take part in the decision.

Justices Tom C. Clark and William O. Douglas joined in a separate opinion which said they would have dismissed the appeal as "improvidently granted." This means that after arguments in the case, they felt the Court had been mistaken in granting the hearing.

Hoffa also is facing a five-year sentence and $10,000 fine following a fraud and conspiracy conviction in Chicago in connection with the Teamster pension fund. The 7th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals upheld this conviction on Oct. 4.

Trio Hurt In Auto Accident

Three teen-agers were injured yesterday when their car overturned on Highway 101 just south of the Lincoln Avenue turnoff to San Rafael.

The car, driven by Henry John Franz, 17, of 217 Blackstone Drive, Marinwood, skidded on wet pavement, rolled over and landed upside-down at the road's edge, reported the California Highway Patrol.

Franz was treated for bruises, scrapes and cuts at Marin General Hospital. Passenger Paul Granger, 18, of 230 San Jose Drive, Hamilton Air Force Base, was treated for a head cut and transferred to Hamilton Air Force Base Hospital in good condition. Passenger James Sanders, 18, of 18 Stasia Drive, Novato, refused treatment for minor injuries.

$56,450 Grant For Teachers

San Rafael Elementary School District has been granted $56,450 in federal funds to be used in special programs for disadvantaged children, the State Board of Education announced today.

Dr. William C. Jordan, acting superintendent of the district, said the funds have been used to hire five more teachers to reduce the pupil-teacher ratio in Short, McPhail, Laurel Dell Primary, Bahia Vista and West End schools, principally in the first three grades.

The funds have also been used to hire a special reading teacher, a speech specialist and a psychologist. These three specialists will be shared half-time with the high school district.

LAW IN ACTION

From the State Bar Of California

School Liability Outside Campus

David, an eager kindergartener, always hurried to school several blocks away. He had to cross a busy street where heavy traffic came just about when David was going to or coming from kindergarten. Traffic signals and cross walks helped children, but the school had dropped its "safety patrol" months before David started school.

The school had warned children to be careful when crossing that street. Other students had already been hurt.

A car hit David at the intersection. Since the driver had little insurance, David's attorney sought to hold the school liable for failing to provide a safety patrol.

The court ruled that the school had no legal duty to provide a safety patrol or to protect David from the negligent motorist.

Schools can provide school patrols, but no law makes them. Having school crossing protections is largely a matter for the city.

But when the school does provide bus transportation or traffic protection it must do so with care. Otherwise the law will hold it liable.

Sometimes public policy may demand that the school protect the children beyond the school grounds where it can or should foresee dangers to the students. In one case the school playing field was across the street from the main school grounds. A negligent driver hurt a student who was crossing the street. The court ruled that the school ought to have provided safety crossings.

The law calls for the school to provide adequate supervision as well as transportation if the school takes the students to a special school event such as a football game.

The school activity may extend beyond the limits of the school grounds. The teacher may have negligently assigned the students to do a dangerous experiment at home. Improper instructions or warnings of the dangers will make the school liable.

Humphreys In New Fancy Digs

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey has told his new neighbors he has "lots of eccentricities—you'll get used to them."

The neighborhood, a combination of chic and run-down, doesn't seem to mind. Two thousand persons turned out yesterday at three gatherings in the area to welcome the Humphreys to their new home, an apartment in a fancy high-rise building.

Humphrey gave them the ground rules for living around a vice president:

"I like to talk.

"I like to walk.

"I expect you to come up and say hello."

As for Mrs. Humphrey, she said, "Some of you have already seen me out walking my little dog, or at the supermarket. Please say hello."

No-Contest Entered On Faulty Milk

John Sabatte, co-owner of Berkeley Farms, pleaded no-contest in Marin Municipal Court today to selling deficient milk. Judge Alvin H. Goldstein Jr. fined him $276 and placed him on two years probation.

The judge dismissed a second count, selling milk falsely labeled "extra rich," after entry of the other plea.

Sabatte, originally scheduled for jury trial today, was accused by the State Department of Agriculture of selling the milk from his firm's Novato depot at 7110 Redwood Highway.

Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales said tests by the agriculture department revealed the milk was consistantly deficient of butter fat during a three-month period ending last September.

One Tax Agency Idea Is Proposed

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Some of Gov.-elect Ronald Reagan's advisers began lining up today on the side of a major reorganization of state government.

California's "Little Hoover Commission" yesterday proposed that all of the state tax collecting duties be consolidated into a single revenue department.

TAX POLICY

At present, the controller, the Franchise Tax Board and the Board of Equalization all help collect state revenue. Critics say it's a costly and inefficient system.

The commission — formally known as the Commission on California State Government Organization — also endorsed elimination of politically appointed inheritance tax appraisers.

Caspar W. Weinberger, a Reagan adviser, reported "there's some sentiment for a Department of Revenue" among some members of his task force that is studying government reorganization for the new administration.

MONEY SAVING

"They feel it offers a chance to save money," Weinberger told a reporter.

But eWinberger, a long-time advocate of a Revenue Department, declined to say if the task force would recommend the new super agency.

These are the Resources, Highway Transportation, Youth and Corrections and Health and Welfare agencies.

"The administrators should be converted, in effect, to cabinet secretaries and located in the governor's office," said Harold Furst of Berkeley, commission chairman.

NEW SYSTEM

The commission proposed that the interitance tax appraisers —who appraise the estates of deceased Californians and get a percentage as a fee — be replaced with a new system.

It recommended modified self appraisal in which the executor would assess the value of the estate and report it to the courts.

The present appraisers were appointed by the State Controller Alan Cranston under an old system that has been criticized as political patronage. Houston I. Flournoy, the Republican controller-elect, said he would replace it with something along the lines of what was advocated by the commission.

OTHER FINDINGS

Other commission recommendations:

Combining the State Park Commission with the Recreation Commission.

Combining the Water Rights Board with the Water Quality Board and revamping the Reclamation Board.

Abolishing several other boards ranging from the Wildlife Conservation Board to the Goose Lake Compact Commission.

Revamping the boards that regulate businesses and professions.

Recruiting Drive

The Novato chapter of the Air Force Assn. in observance of the 20th anniversary of that association, will have a membership drive from now until the end of February, according to Noel Turner, president.

Rezoning On Planners Agenda For Larkspur

The Larkspur Planning Commission will consider rezoning from residential to professional for property on Magnolia Avenue near Bon Air Road, owned by Robert Busse, at 8 p.m. tomorrow at city hall.

The board will also consider architect's plans for a Greenbrae pet hospital at 2104 Redwood Highway, Greenbrae.

Peacock Gap Site On Agenda

A report on present efforts to obtain a school site at Peacock Gap is on the supplemental agenda for tomorrow's meeting of the San Rafael Board of Education scheduled for 7:30 p.m. in the district office.

It will be recommended to the board a sub-committee be set up to work with staff on site negotiations.

Other agenda items include a discussion on the possibility of a planning grant for development of a diagnostic-teacher learning center in the area, and a report on the recent flooding of gymnasiums at San Rafael High School.

Minnesota has 87 counties.

GENTLE SLOPE TURNS INTO MUDDY NIGHTMARE

This sheer drop-off of earth was a gentle slop Saturday in the Redwood City area. The homes, in the $60,000 class (left), are rapidly losing all foundation support and the earth that is slipping away is endangering homes below the new cliff. The home were evacuated yesterday. Recent heavy rains have been blamed for the mud slides. (UPI Telephoto)

Supervisors To Hear Police Union Report

Proposed formation of a county service area for police protection, regional government, and the Manzanita Neighborhood Center in Marin City are among items to be discussed by county supervisors tomorrow.

The board meeting will begin at 9 a.m. at Civic Center.

Hearing on the county service area is scheduled at 10:30 a.m. The proposed district would include all unincorporated areas and allow those cities that wished to do so to participate on a contractual basis.

The county administrator's office recommends approval of the plan. An alternate discussed several weeks ago, for consolidation of all police departments, has been protested by several cities.

Following that hearing the board will discuss the Assn. of Bay Area Governments' proposal for regional government. Supervisor Peter H. Behr, who will be a delegate to ABAG's general assembly session Thursday, has asked supervisors to give him direction on what to seek in the way of expanded responsibility of such a government, bond limits and method of selecting the governing body.

Hearing on plans for Manzanita Neighborhood Center is set for 1:40 p.m. Right after that, a discussion of the limited financial ability of the Marin City Community Services District to operate such a center will be discussed.

A related topic is the request Club for a $12,000 county grant to support its operation through calendar 1967.

Seashore Fund Release Sought

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Thomas H. Kuhel, R-Calif., has urged the Budget Bureau to release $5,135,000 for the immediate acquisition of additional land for Point Reyes National Seashore in California.

Congress authorized the expenditure to cover six tracts totaling 3,700 acres on which condemnation proceedings were under way or which were covered by options.

While no funds were appropriated by Congress, Kuchel said the Interior Department intended to reallocate available funds so the Point Reyes transactions could be completed.

Smog Clearing In Southland

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Gusty northeast winds from desert areas have swept clouds and smog away and boosted Southern California temperatures about 10 degrees above normal for December, the weather bureau reports.

The winds, strongest in the San Fernando Valley and desert areas yesterday, were expectted to keep skies clear and chase smog away through most of today. Some gusts of up to 35 miles an hour were reported yesterday.

The predicted high in the Los Angeles civic center today was 77 degrees, with an overnight low of about 45 degrees.

Boat Member Swept To Sea

MARINA (UPI) — Marcia Wheeling, 27, Mountain View, drowned Saturday night when a large wave beached a 30-foot sailboat and swept her into the sea.

The wave hit while the boat was having engine and compass trouble about 75 feet offshore, according to James F. Bauman, San Jose, who recovered the body in the surf.

His two daughters were also aboard the boat, which was on a cruise from Santa Cruz to Monterey, but they were not injured.

Quick Nuclear Pact Ratification Seen

The Montana Democrat praised the treaty as a "step in the right direction," and forecast Senate ratification by the necessary two-thirds vote after the customary hearings.

San Francisco police reported the accident was at Bay and Hyde streets.

Medics Plan Thorough Ruby Exam

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Medical specialists start examining cancer-stricken Jack Ruby from head to toe today to seek the source of the disease spreading through his body.

"His chances of recovery depend on the location of the primary site," said Dr. Jay Sanford, professor of internal medicine at Southwestern Medical School. Dr. Sanford heads a team of physicians treating Ruby.

Sheriff Bill Decker, who has custody of Ruby, called a news conference today, he said Dr. Sanford would be present.

Ruby, 55, onetime Dallas night club operator who neither drank nor smoked, was taken to Parkland Hospital Friday night after being treated for a week by the county health officer for a congested chest. The hospital said he had pneumonia.

A malignant tumor was discovered Saturday to have nearly consumed a lymph node in Ruby's neck. Doctors said it signified there were other sites and that the cancer was advanced.

Kennedy-Hoover Gap Widens On Report

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Robert F. Kennedy has challenged FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover to make public his entire file on who authorized what eavesdropping while Kennedy was attorney general.

The New York Democrat fired the challenge last night in a new round of the Kennedy-Hoover disagreement which erupted Saturday.

The furor opened with publication of a Hoover letter which said Kennedy knew all about FBI eavesdropping.

Kennedy said he didn't, that Hoover "has been misinformed." Hoover said Kennedy's retort was "absolutely inconceivable." Hoover produced a document backing his stand from the same FBI official Kennedy had quoted for his side.

Then Kennedy called for Hoover to make his entire file public. "There is no indication that Mr. Hoover ever asked me for authorization for any single bugging device," said Kennedy.

Another former attorney general, Kennedy successor Nicholas Katzenbach, emerged as a sort of would-be peacemaker with a terse statement giving credit to each side and in essence chalking the dispute up to misunderstanding.

Meanwhile, the practical effects of hidden surveillance were scored in New York by Rep. Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., chairman of the House Judiciary Committee.

"We can't pick up a phone in Washington without fear and trepidation that someone is listening in," he said in a television interview on WNBC-TV's "Man in Office."

"I don't know who is doing it," said Celler. "The abuse of these devices is all over. Whatever benefit they might be for the police departments, it is far outweighed by the danger implicit in them."

The Hoover letter, to Rep. H. R. Gross, R-Iowa, said use of wiretapping equipment increased during Kennedy's stint as attorney general, from 1961 until 1964.

Witnesses told police McElhern and his roommate Arthur Crabtree, also 23 and a Maupin native, were cleaning weapons in their gun collection Sunday when a visitor suggested a "quick draw" contest.

When they strapped on their pistols, faced each other and drew, Crabtree's gun went off striking McElhern in the chest killing him, police said.

Police indicated they thought the shooting was accidental, but Crabtree was held in Oakland City Prison for investigation.

Couple Fete Half Century Of Marriage

Mr. and Mrs. George V. Skillman of 161 Bolinas Road, Fairfax, are looking forward to more good years of marriage following their 50th anniversary Nov. 23.

Residents of Fairfax since 1917, the Skillmans retired in 1960 after traveling throughout the West, selling ceramics and gift items. Before that, they owned the Fairfax Variety Store for four years.

Skillman also worked for the Sterling Furniture Co. in San Francisco for 29 years, and Mrs. Skillman was employed at Albert's Department Store (now Macy's) in San Rafael for 21 years.

They were married in Oakland.

The Skillmans celebrated their anniversary at a family dinner at Deer Park Villa in Fairfax. The couple have no children.

Mrs. Skillman said she and her husband are looking forward to another "10 or 15 years."

"Another 50 years? That would be asking a little too much," she said.

Young Shoplifters

Two Mill Valley girls, 9 and 10 years old, shoplifted a training brassier Saturday from Mayer's Department Store, 2 Miller Avenue, police reported today. The girls were reprimanded and released to their parents.

Britain Sounds Toll On Present Currency

LONDON (UPI) — Britain sounded the death knell today for its 12 century old currency system. It will keep the pound, lose its shillings and gain new pence when it switches to decimal coinage in February, 1971.

The government gave Britons the details in a white paper of its long-awaited, long-debated plans to put what one past prime minister called "those damned dots" into one of the few non-decimal currencies left in the world. It took the actual decision to do so last March.

The pound, worth $2.80, will remain the major unit of currency for international and domestic reasons. But the 20 shillings that make up a pound will go, taking with them such coins as the shilling (14 cents), the florin (two shillings or 28 cents) the half crown (two shillings and sixpence or 35 cents), plus the 10 shilling note ($1.40). The 12 pennies that make up a shilling will also go.

Instead the pound will be divided into 100 units, temporarily called "new pennies" or "newpence" until they get old enough to drop the "new" tag. Each will be worth 2.8 U.S. cents, compared to the worth of the present penny at 1.17 cents.

All this will give rise to the "50 newpence" coin, worth $1.40, a "10 newpence" coin, worth 28 cents, a "five newpence" coin, worth 14 cents, a "two newpence" coin worth 5.6 cents, a "new penny" coin worth 2.8 cents and a "half new penny" coin worth 1.4 cents.

The move, discussed for more than a century, is sure to trigger controversy, confusion and an upsurge in nostalgia for the old system.

No estimate is given of the cost of the switch but it is considered unlikely to be as high as the figure of $358.4 million given by the government-appointed Halsbury Committee which recommended decimal adoption in 1963.

Police Slayers Are Given Life

LONDON (AP) — Harry Roberts, 30, an ex-convict who was Britain's most-wanted man, was convicted today along with two associates of the murder of three London policemen last Aug. 12. They were sentenced to life imprisonment.

Judge Alan Glyn-Jones recommended they should be held at least 30 years. Britain has abolished the death sentence for murder and a life sentence depends on the government's discretion.

Inmate Is Stabbed In Scuffle

Billy Joe Tenberg, a 22-year-old inmate at San Quentin Prison, suffered a superficial hip wound when he was stabbed with a chisel during a scuffle in the upper yard about noon yesterday.

Officers had to fire a warning shot to break up the fight, reported Associate Warden J. H. Hastings. The weapon, a six-inch chisel, was found in a nearby garbage can. Officials took a suspect in custody, he said.

Being held in the prison's adjustment center, pending hearing before a disciplinary committee, was Thomas F. Stephens, 28, serving a one year to life sentence for robbery in Los Angeles County.

Tenberg, convicted of grand theft in San Diego County, is serving a sentence of from six months to 15 years. He arrived at San Quentin last July 28.

Young Bicyclist Hurt In Accident

Sandy Hanson, 8, of 70-A East Blithedale Avenue, Mill Valley, was reported in good condition today at Marin General Hospital with a broken right leg suffered Saturday afternoon when her bicycle collided with a car on Forrest Avenue in Mill Valley.

Paul H. Henrie, 43, of 20 Sunnyside Avenue, told police the collision happened as he turned east onto Forrest Avenue from Parkwood Avenue.

Zone Study On Fairfax Agenda

The proposed county-cities zoning ordinance study, seeking uniform zoning terms throughout Marin, will be discussed by the Fairfax City Council at its meeting at 8 p. m. today at the Fairfax Women's Club.

The council will also consider what stand to take regarding the Assn. of Bay Area Governments' proposal for a limited regional government.

An ordinance creating a board of design review will be up for final reading, and a proposed amendment to the animal control ordinance, bringing it into conformity with the county's, is scheduled for introduction.

The council is to name Fairfax's member of the Marin County Mosquito Abatement District Board, and name members to League of California Cities committees.

An appointment may be made to fill a vacancy on the parks and recreation commission.

Ike 'Good' Following His Surgery

WASHINGTON, (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower's condition was reported "good" and his recovery prospects "excellent" after surgeons removed his gall bladder today, Walter Reed Army Hospital said.

Surgeons who operated on the 76-year-old five-star general said his heart action was "normal" during the operation that lasted an hour and 45 minutes.

Mamie Eisenhower, son John, and Dr. Milton Eisenhower — the general's brother — were in the hospital ward and "they were kept informed periodically as to the progress of surgery," the surgeons reported.

The doctors said that for the present, no visitors except immediate members of the family would be permitted.

Auto Accident Victim

Michaell Purtell, 24, of 111 Buena Vista Avenue, Corte Madera, suffered bruises when his car skidded and hit the south end of the median barrier on the San Rafael overpass of Highway 101 at 4 p.m. yesterday, the California Highway Patrol reported. He was treated at Marin General Hospital.

Two Criminal Trials Set For Tomorrow

Two criminal trials with juries and one non-jury case were scheduled in Marin Superior Court today to start at 10 a.m. tomorrow.

The jury cases are those of Lynden Mervin Smith, 44, charged with felony drunken driving resulting in an injury to another person, and Johnnie Clyde Gray, 29, accused of forgery.

Smith of Forest Knolls, was driving north on Shoreline Highway near Marshall on July 3 when his car struck a southbound motorcycle operated by Alan James Horn of Oakland, according to California Highway Patrol. Horn, thrown down a cliff from the impact, suffered a broken right leg and severe cut on his left leg.

Gray, of San Francisco, allegedly forged a $148 check Oct. 29 to defraud David C. Little in Mill Valley.

Scheduled for court trial before Judge Harold J. Haley is Eric Hoberg, 20. He is accused of felony manufacture of the dangerous drug, desoxyephedrine, at his Arroyo Road home in Lagunitas on May 5.

Charge against a co-defendant, Harriett Hutman Papio, 30, was dismissed after a preliminary hearing because of insufficient evidence.

Tribunal To Rule On Marriage Laws

WASHINGTON, (AP) — The Supreme Court agreed today to rule whether Virginia's laws banning interracial marriages violate the U.S. Constitution.

The court made no comment as it announced it would consider the Virginia laws,

A hearing is possible before the current term runs out.

The laws were attacked by a couple who contend they are invalid because they "make the color of a person's skin the test of whether his marriage constitutes a criminal offense."

Richard Loving, 31, a white construction worker, and his wife, Mildred, 26, who is part Negro and part Indian, were married in Washington, D.C., in 1958. Five weeks later they were arrested in their rural home south of Fredericksburg, Va.

One-year prison terms were suspended on condition they leave Virginia for 25 years. Later they began a long legal battle in state and federal courts. In March 1966, the Virginia Supreme Court ruled the state's miscegenation laws were valid. The American Civil Liberties Union then appealed to the U.S. Supreme Court on behalf of the couple.

Virginia's laws, the appeal said, violate constitutional guarantees of due process and equal protection of laws, the right of privacy, and the right of freedom to marry.

Miscegenation laws of Virginia and 17 other states also deny many rights and benefits contingent upon the marriage relationship, and violate civil rights guaranteed by federal law, the appeal said.

Asked to reply to the Lovings' constitutional attack, Virginia officials told the high court these laws "have stood — compatibly with the 14th Amendment, though expressly attacked thereunder — since that amendment was adopted."

Under such circumstances, the Virginia official said, "it is clear that the challenged enactments infringe no constitutional right."

They thereby asked the court not to review the Virginia Supreme Court ruling.

Trustee Of Reed School Will Resign

David D. Ring of Tiburon today announced his resignation as a Reed School District trustee.

Ring said he plans to run next April for election to the Tamalpais High School District Board.

The resignation's effective date was left unclear.

Joe H. Edgington, Reed district superintendent, said he understood Ring was contemplatting such a move, but the board had received no letter.

Ring is completing his second four-year term on the Reed board.

He said in a statement that he will seek election to the Tamalpais board because it lacks a member with experience on an elementary school board.

Ring has been suggested by area school officials and residents for possible appointment to the State Board of Education. There has been no comment from Gov.-elect Ronald Reagan.

Dog Is Killed In Auto Mishap

A German shepherd dog was killed in an automobile accident in Tiburon at 1:55 a.m. yesterday.

Tiburon Sheriff's deputy Eugene Brannon reported a westbound car on Tiburon Boulevard driven by Walter Anton Sonner, 30, 5 Niela Way, Mill Valley, swerved on the curve at Trestle Glen, hit a guard rail and landed upside down in a ditch.

The car caught fire and the blaze was put out by Tiburon firemen. Sonner suffered minor injuries but refused hospitalization. His wife, Mrs. W. A. Sonner, who was a passenger, was uninjured. Their German shepherd dog was thrown from the car and killed.

Young Driver Gets Citation

A youthful driver was cited to Marin County Juvenile Division for hit-run property damage today.

Tiburon Sheriff's Deputy Eugene Brannon said Edward H. Daniel of 3 Lagoon Road, Tiburon, heard a crash about 12:20 a.m. and looked out to see a car had knocked down his fence.

Daniel told Brannon the boy gave him a different name, address and license plate number from those on a registration he later found in a wallet on the ground after the boy left.

Colonel's Wife Testifies About Threat Of Insanity

FREEHOLD, N. J. (UPI) — Mrs. Marjorie Farber testified today that her hypnotist-lover, Dr. Carl A. Coppolino, threatened to have her declared insane and put in an asylum if she ever told how she watched him kill her husband.

She testified for the second day in the first degree murder trial of the anaesthesiologist who she said had kept her in a trance for a year.

Mrs. Farber also said that he had told her to administer an "untraceable" lethal drug to her husband by injection but before giving him the shot to wrap a towel around a baseball bat and knock him unconscious.

"He told you that before giving him the drug to hit him in the head with a baseball bat?" queried defense attorney F. Lee Bailey.

She said, "Yes," but that "I couldn't do it."

Bailey asked her how it happened she suddenly got "out of control" of his hypnotic trance so as to disobey that instruction.

She repeated that she just couldn't do it.

Bailey also is expected to question Mrs. Farber further on a surprise defense exhibit — a mysterious statement Mrs. Farber said she signed but never saw. She said Friday it was in the doctor's handwriting and bore her signature out added: "I have never seen this piece of paper before in my life."

It said that she was releasing Dr. Coppolino from responsibility in her husband's case of illness because her husband refused to go to the hospital even though he might be suffering a heart attack.

Utility Board Annexes Land

Bolinas Public Utilities District Board Friday passed an ordinance annexing about 12 acres of land to the district at the request of owner Edward Letter.

The ordinance will be subject to a public hearing at the next meeting of the board, Jan. 13 in the Waterhouse Building at 7:30 p.m.

Arrangements were made for the Feb. 7 election for the proposed merger between Bolinas PUD and Bolinas Beach PUD and for the three directors of the consolidated board.

Members welcomed new director Emanuel Peters, attending his first meeting following approval by the county board of supervisors of his appointment.

Reagan Asks Ohioan To Help Solve Problems

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ronald Reagan has asked the help of Ohio's chief financial officer in coping with his problems as the new governor of California, Gov. James A. Rhodes said today.

Rhodes said Reagan asked to have Finance Director Richard Krabach, chief architect of Rhodes' balanced budget without new taxes in Ohio, to visit California to give advice on the financial problems in California.

Krabach said the problems Reagan, a Republican, will face are similar to those in Ohio when Rhodes, also a Republican took over from former Gov. Michael DiSalle, a Democrat. Reagan defeated Gov. Edmund (Pat) Brown, a Democrat.

Krabach has given other Republican state executives financial assistance over the years.

Armed Robbery Term Modified

County jail term of Michael Richard Colvard, 21, for armed robbery today was modified by Judge Joseph G. Wilson of Marin Superior Court to the six months already served.

Greenbelt Land Plan 'Desirable'

Mill Valley Planning Commission agreed Saturday to consider purchase by the of part of the north ridge, Planning Director Harvey E. Bragdon reported today.

"We feel that there is no question that this is a desirable goal," Bragdon said, "but the question is how much could be bought." Commissioners asked Bragdon to estimate the cost to the city of sewers to serve the ridge as it develops.

The purchase would create a permanent greenbelt between Mill Valley and Corte Madera, he noted.

The proposal came up in a special meeting Saturday at City Hall to discuss zoning philosophies.

Commissioners agreed to consider amending the planned single-family residential district classification to allow multiple units. The change would not allow multiples in present single-family districts, Bragdon explained, but would extend the provisions of the new "R-P-1" ordinance to multiple districts.

The change, he said, "would give us a tool to encourage more imagination in multiple-unit districts. It does not mean any increase in densities. It just gives us more flexibility in encouraging good design."

Grohman started the Pacific Sun at Stinson Beach four years ago, and moved it to San Rafael a little less than two years ago. It went from weekly to twice a week early this year.

McNamara is a resident of Mill Valley, where his wife, Hanne, has a dress shop.

'Surprise' Birth In Bus Terminal

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — His name is Daniel John Ertman, but his friends will probably be forgiven if they call him "Greyhound."

Daniel was born in the San Francisco bus terminal last night a bit ahead of schedule at seven months. His arrival was a complete surprise to his mother, Mrs. Sandra Ertman, 27, a Chicago acrobat, who said she didn't even know she was pregnant.

Mrs. Ertman began suffering labor pains shortly after her arrival at the terminal from Chicago. An attendant in the women's lounge thought she had a stomach ache, put a wet towel on Mrs. Ertman's head and told her to lie down.

A professional nurse who was in the lounge guessed correctly, however, and delivered the baby.

The healthy youngster and mother were taken by ambulance to San Francisco General Hospital.

X-15 Sets New Speed Record

EDWARDS AFB, Calif (UPI) —Refinement of data collected on an X-15 rocket ship flight last Nov. 18 has boosted the aircraft's world speed record to 4,233 miles an hour, according to the Federal Space Agency.

Air Force Maj. William J. Knight, the pilot, had listed the speed as 4,159 miles an hour. That figure was obtained from raw flight data.

The new figure, mach 6.33 or 6.33 times the speed of sound, was a refinement which included effects of atmospheric pressure, altitude, winds and temperature, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration said yesterday.

City Manager Does Homework

Lawrence D. Rose, Tiburon city manager, is a man who believes in the Boy Scout motto, "Be prepared."

So, just in case the move to disincorporate Tiburon comes to fruition, Rose set about to find out what to do in case of disincorporation.

He had some trouble, however, he reported in a letter to city coucilmen. "I can't find anyone still alive who knows much about it," he confessed.

The last disincorporation Rose could find was that of Bayshore City in San Mateo County in 1940, and he wasn't able to learn much about that. Bayshore City was incorporated to license dog racing, and disincorporated after the state legislature outlawed dog racing.

Rose's research didn't uncover the dog racing angle, but he did find several other disincorporations.

"Pismo Beach also abdicated in 1940, apparently a pretty discouraging year for coastal towns," he wrote. "Afterwards I gather they must have sat around for awhile and thought about it. Maybe they finally decided the second mistake was worse than the first mistake, because six years later they reincorporated. (Long Beach did the same thing back in 1898, but they took only three months to change their minds down there. It seems that someone thought the end of the world was coming, and they wanted to be ready for it. But nothing happened, so they got back in business again and started discovering oil. Nobody I know of in Long Beach is today thinking of doing it again, even if the end of the world does get close once more.)"

Going much farther back, Rose discovered that Columbia was disincorporated in 1870, "but the legislature had to do that because nobody was left in town who cared one way or the other. The same thing happened to Dutch Flat even earlier, in 1866. There, it appears, all the citizens had either moved up to the cemetery or to Whiskey Gulch."

Rose discovered that Kelseyville was disincorporated in 1902, Coram in 1918, and Orangethorpe in 1923.

"There have been seven other disincorporations, like Potter Valley, up in Mendocino County, in 1926," he reported. "Altogether, the secretary of state and I have found 14 such happenings in 109 years. The trouble is, as I said, I can't find anybody who still remembers how they closed up the store, so I sort of took off on my own. "I've looked into who would like the money we've accumulated. I find we can get quite a bit of help there. The county, I understand, and the state, and even a couple of people here in town have indicated that they would take that problem off our hands.

"A lady over in Strawberry phoned and said that she'd keep the geraniums out in back of the city hall watered and watch out for anyone filling in Richardson Bay. But the market is kind of low on things like old city seals, resolutions of appreciation, and used shark flags. Maybe someone would like to have them for their trophy room.

"I guess, when the time comes the best thing to do is to have a picnic social on Main Street, elect somebody as unmayor and let him worry about it. . . .

"I did have one other thought. Somebody will have to remember next day to take down those city limit signs. There's a fellow out in Lyford's Cove who keeps complaining that the sign in front of his house blocks his view. I never thought he'd go this far to get it removed, but it just goes to show you how determined some people can be."

Cyclist, His Rider Injured In Accident

A motorcyclist and his rider were injured yesterday at 3 p.m. in an accident on Shoreline Highway, two miles north of Muir Beach.

A motorcycle driven by Navy Ensign Michael Airey Griffin, 22, of Berkeley swerved off a sharp blind curve at the crest of a hill and crashed into a guard rail, knocking off the driver and his passenger, Patricia Jean Griffin, 22, of Berkeley, according to California Highway Patrol. Both were treated at Marin General Hospital and transferred to Oak Knoll Naval Hospital in Oakland, with concussion, scrapes and bruises.

Armed Man Is Shot To Death

NORTH HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Police say they fatally shot a man who held a former girl friend captive, chained to a bed for 18 hours.

Officers gave this account.:

Dean Ripkey, 34, a former state air pollution engineer, of North Hollywood, asked Mrs. Glenna Wood, 35, to marry him. When she refused, he chained her to a bed in her garage.

A relative of Mrs. Wood notified officers yesterday, and they went to the garage and called for Ripkey to come out.

Ripkey unchained Mrs. Wood, who jumped to safety through a window after signalling that Ripkey was armed.

$200 In Cash Taken From Firm's Safe

Over $200 in cash was taken from a locked safe of the Corte Madera Bike Shop at 5772 Paradise Drive, Corte Madera, Friday, according to police.

German Exchange Student Fits Well As Guest In Novato Home

By HERON A. NEWELL

GERMAN 'DIPLOMAT'—Arthur Weinholdt of Essen, German, is recording his year as an exchange student in Novato on color slides. He started labeling them in German, but soon switched to English.

"We got the best of the lot," said Mrs. William Leigh Metteer of 12 Laurie Court, Novato, in describing the foreign exchange student from Germany who is staying with the Metteer family this school year.

He is Artur Weinholdt, 17, of Essen, Westphalia, Germany, in the heart of the industrial Ruhr district.

Artur has a good German camera and is recording his stay in California in colored slides. He started labeling these in German, but soon switched to English.

He likes reading fiction, including science fiction.

He likes swimming, but does not go out for athletics. His impressions of a football game are that the pom pom girls, the band and the pomp are more important than the game.

"Whoever sees the game with the pom pom girls dancing in front of him?" he asked.

Even with this observation, he could not compare American high school girls with those in Germany because he went to an all-boys' school in Germany. But he remarked that the girls dominate everything at Novato High School.

Artur said that he thought that the United States is even richer than everyone had said it was.

"Everyone owns his own house and has two cars in each garage," he said.

He is studying United States history, English, American government, French, public speaking, advanced chorus and physical education. His grades are all As and Bs.

In Germany, his father (also Artur) is an industrial purchaser for a mining firm. He has a younger brother, Wolfgang.

His Novato family consists of Mr. and Mrs. Metteer, Michael, a student at Hill Junior High School where Metteer is principal, Jeff and Sally, who attend West Novato School.

Mrs. Metteer said that he made himself right at home. The first thing he did was to take on himself the care of the yard.

The Metteer family tasted the thrill of having a foreign student once before when a Mexican boy lived with them for one week.

When Artur returns to Germany, he hopes to go on to a university.

"I don't know what I want to make of myself yet," he said.

Maybe he will find out this year at Novato high school. He could be a diplomat very easily.

Restaurant Plan On City's Agenda

Parking requirements for a proposed take-out restaurant at Miller Avenue and Gomez Way will be considered by Mill Valley Planning Commission at 8 p.m. today in City Hall.

Commissioners also will hear a request to defer removal of non-conforming signs pending the paint-up, clean-up of commercial areas in the spring.

First item on the agenda is a proposal by Leonard Fleishman to subdivide 4.6 acres at the upper end of Camino Alto into seven lots.

Teacher Meeting

The San Anselmo School District Board will meet with representatives of the San Anselmo Elementary Teachers Assn. at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow at Isabel Cook School to discuss the teachers negotiational platform.

Courthouse Square Zoning Continued Hearing Slated

The San Rafael Planning Commission will continue its public hearing tomorrow on zoning for limited commercial use the courthouse square, for which the county has been offered $900,000.

Other items on the agenda, when the commission meets at 7:30 p.m. at city hall, include architectural approval of a church, permits for boat repair in San Rafael Yacht Harbor, an outdoor theater at Dominican College, and a wide range of requests for use permits, approvals of signs and rezoning.

The zoning of the courthouse square has been the subject of previous hearings. Tuesday, County Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen disclosed an offer by land developer Harry H. Heifitz and an unidentified partner of $900,000 for the square, just $40,000 short of what the county wanted to raise on the property. Heifetz told the supervisors he would preserve the old courthouse and the park in front of it.

An offer of the square for public sale will be made by the board of supervisors with the expectation of receiving Heifetz's bid and others.

Harbor Boat Repair has requested a permit for boat repair and allied operations at 51 and 57 Harbor street.

Dominican College has asked for a permit for an outdoor theater in Forest Meadows.

Plans for an Assembly of God Church at 77 Clark street will be submitted for approval.

The commission will also resume its public hearing on an amendment to the zoning ordinance to add a new limited commercial classification.

The final item on the agenda will be discussion of a city-county agreement for cooperation in preparing a zoning ordinance.

Bay Government Goal Committee To Report

The Goals and Organization Committee of the Assn. of Bay Area Governments will report to an ABAG executive committee meeting Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in the Hotel Claremont, Berkeley.

Base Keeps Inventory Via Electronic Brain

Gone are the days when supply sergeants at Hamilton Air Force Base jot down notes on every item of equipment to keep track of it.

Now the job is being done in a fraction of the time by a new "recruit" — a $300,000 Univac computer with a memory that never fails.

Facts and figures are fed into the machine and stored there, ready for instant recall at the press of a button.

Warehouses at Hamilton contain 96,000 separate items worth about $12 million.

Each day 500 items are received there and another 400 moved out to bases requesting them. The base supply office buys more than $300,000 worth of supplies a month.

The computer is programed to keep track of the comings and goings. New supplies are ordered automatically before a particular stock gets short.

There are eight remote stations around the base which personnel can use to request information from the computer or to feed new facts into it.

Should a unit ask for a particular item of equipment, it takes only seconds for the computer to search through its "memory" and disclose to staff where the item is stored.

Minutes later, the equipment can be on its way to the unit.

It still takes human minds to run the supply office at Hamilton. But with its knack of dispensing with useless duplication and reams of paper, the new computer is accepted as playing a vital role in the smooth running of the base.

Novatan Rewarded For State Savings

Anderson is a technician at Sonoma State College, where the apparatus has been put into use at $2,000 annual saving to the school.

Volunteer Army Said Unworkable

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Selective Service Director Lt. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey believes that, ideally, an army of volunteers is the only fair way of providing a national military force.

But, said Hershey yesterday, volunteer armies had proved a failure in American experience. It only works when fear of the draft encourages volunteers, he told a student audience at American University.

All You Need Is Money For This Fabulous Santa's List

By GAY PAULEY

NEW YORK (UPI)—Dreaming of a status symbol Christmas? All you need is money.

For the "visible evidence of superior rank," as author Vance Packard has described the term, is more visible than ever this year in the stores and specialty shops.

HOW ABOUT A SKI slope in your own backyard? It's 121 feet long, comes with lights for skiing at night, and has a plastic surface so there's no snow shoveling involved. Price, $100,000.

Or, for clanking around the house, there are authentic suits of armor, one of them German, circa 1540, with helmet and visor and "all finger, hand and elbow joints in working condition," for $6,500.

FOR HER, a necklace with round, marquise and pear-shaped stones set in platinum, for $170,000.

Or in case this necklace is grabbed up already, a diamond and emerald drop necklace is available at $57,500, and an all diamond bracelet for $18,500.

Also for her, a Leo Ritter-designed Russian sable coat for $25,000, or a Jacques Kaplan-designed chinchilla blanket for $5,000.

Or for the do-it-yourself female, there's a tool chest from France, with decorations in jewels and sequins. Included for $400 are vicuna working gloves and apron.

OR GOGGLES for cycling or skiing, with mink border, are only $12.50.

Tired of the paper shopping bags? One from Portugal, $250, is beaded with rhinestones and pearls and has a gold frame.

Want to get away from it all? All sorts of charter your own villa plans are offered at a mere $200 a week but for real status, charter an island with accommodations for 35 persons, and a private yacht, for $5,000 per week. Or, go on a shooting safari to Africa, 22 days for $3,600.

These are just a few of the many often costly and often offbeat gifts for the person who has everything else, spotted in a tour through stores and Christmas catalogs.

BABY CAN HAVE in his Christmas collection anything from a set of sterling diaper pins at $5.50 to a carriage blanket, in any fur, ranging in price from $175 to $500 "depending on whether baby was born with a silver or gold spoon in its mouth," said furrier Kaplan.

Or, there's a formal christening apparel set from Spain for $550 and a cradle in white molded wicker from Germany for $295.

FOR THE MEN, there's a fur "blotter" for the desk, done in either jaguar or leopard, for $1,500.

Or, for him, there's a baby grand piano in white wood, which doesn't play piano music, but does open up into a cabinet with bar, serving cart, hi-fi and stereo set, record player and television, for $1,850.

For his jacket, there are 14-k gold buttons, at $90, and the "millionarie's dairy," bound in black pigskin, stamped in 18-k gold, and including facts on yacht brokers, polo meets, racing stables, and clubs of interest "to the favored few," for $25.

FOR THE CANINE seeking status, a split level indoor dog house imported from Italy sells for $119 and a mink blanket cape bound in purple and silver, at $1,000.

There are of course those well-publicized "His" and "Hers" side by side bathtubs for $4,000. Also for the house are mink and cashmere Christmas stockings for $50 each or mink and jewel-trimmed Christmas tree decorations sprinkled with silver dust for $10 each.

A FRENCH MADE silver-plated duck press, resting on marble base, costs $410.

In the odds and ends department, look for:

—An English taxi cab that survived the World War II blitz, at $2,000;

—A "NOTHING ROCK," a foot wide and 18 inches high, carries the legend ". . . historical marker, on this spot, February 29, 1775, absolutely nothing happened," but the plaque can be used instead to carry mottoes, advice or for identification, at $30;

—A "detect-a-drink" which indicates the amount of imbibing done during the holidays or any other time of the year, for $5;

—A diet computer, that indicates how much weight one loses or gains over any given period or after one meal, for $25;

—And cuff links which double as pill boxes, for $5 a pair.

Volunteer Army Said Unworkable

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Selective Service Director Lt. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey believes that, ideally, an army of volunteers is the only fair way of providing a national military force.

But, said Hershey yesterday, volunteer armies had proved a failure in American experience. It only works when fear of the draft encourages volunteers, he told a student audience at American University.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

'I'm Five Feet Two And My Tall Husband Writes Notes In The Dust'

DEAR HELEN:

I have only this to say: If you are no great shakes as a housekeeper, gals, don't marry a tall man!

I did. He's six feet four, and he sees ALL—the top of the refrigerator, dust on high shelves, cobwebs on the ceiling beams and chandeliers. I'm five feet two, and whenever I climb on a chair to clean the top of my refrigerator, I find little love notes written in the dust: "I like you anyway."

What do you do with a man like this? —SHORTY

DEAR SHORTY:

Love him—and hand him the dust cloth. —H.

DEAR HELEN:

I've often wondered why they let actors get stoned on TV, and show them drinking all over the place in plays and movies, when they won't allow anyone in a commercial to touch lips to a beer glass, or even advertise hard liquor. Is there any real reason why the TV code of ethics has two sets of rules? —D.B.E.

DEAR D:

Beats me. I guess only the code's in the know. —H.

PERSONAL TO "IS SHE SICK?":

Not being an expert, I don't diagnose mental illness — and neither should mean, gossipy neighbors.

Each of us—including you—has so many odd quirks that, taken out of context and listed by an enemy-type "friend," they'd make us all sound like candidates for the nut hatch. Your letter is fascinating but deadly and I suggest you peddle your hate elsewhere. —H.

DEAR HELEN:

There's only one thing worse than getting yanked out of a hot tub to talk on the phone and that's to drip all the way out to the phone and find the caller has hung up!

This has happened to me every day for a week—in fact every day since I had the falling out with my neighbor in the next apartment, the one who used to sneak out and read my morning paper then toss it in front of my door in a holy mess.

I begin to suspect something. You see, our walls are thin and we can hear when anyone next door is running bath water. Just like clockwork, the minute I get soaped, that blasted phone rings. Now anyone but an enemy would wait till it rings four times, but not this diabolical caller. I've slipped and slid to the phone on the third ring and he's hung off.

The other day I ran the tub, then waited by the phone. Grabbed the receiver the minute it rung—and heard a click. How can I trap him? —SUSPICIOUS

DEAR SUS:

You may not trap "him" but you can thwart callers by taking the receiver off the hook until you finish your bath. Happy splashing . . . unless the phone company shoots you a reminder jingle. —H.

DEAR HELEN:

I'm divorced, age 50, and lonely. I've met a man who is a great companion. He drinks a lot, but holds it well. In fact, he's the nicest fellow going when he's had about five highballs, and he usually does.

But the other night I saw him cold sober. He was a dud — morose, dull, untalkative, not even likable. We'd talked of marriage, but now I'm not sure. What do you think? —MARY

DEAR MARY:

It's your decision, but think long and hard before you marry a man who can only like the world when looking at it through rose-colored eyeballs. The public sees a very happy fellow, but the wife sees all the hangovers. —H.

DRAMA REVIEW

'Much Ado About Nothing' Is A Rousing Good Show

By KARL BARRON

William Shakespeare would love the production of "Much Ado About Nothing" which the College of Marin Drama Department is staging with performances Wednesday through Sunday at 8:30 p.m.

For all rousing good humor, sheer villainy and true love that the Bard incorporates within a shallow plot that almost beggars belief is brought to joyus life in James Dunn's staging of the play.

This show is not for those who think Shakespeare should be treated with religious reverence. As a raucous four-piece band led by William Nelson oompahs in the beckground, four/neo-classic nymph statues provide such diverse props as fountains, thrones and torch holders. They listen intently to the plotting which goes on around them, and at times one expects them to join the plot. (Sometimes they do.)

THREE-DIMENSIONAL

To Shakespeare buffs, "Much Ado" means three characters—Beatrice, Benedick and Dogberry. Those who see this one will go away with memories of characters they never knew existed, for here Claudio, Hero and the villains becomes three-demensional.

The Beatrice of Carolyn Dunn is devoid of the somewhat unpleasant brittleness with which the girl is usually played. Miss Dunn is witty, she is funny, but above all she is warm, tender, beautiful and completely feminine even as she says, "Oh that I were a man!"

Counterpointing her is David Dukes as Benedick. Dukes, a young actor who grows with each role is unfortunately playing his last for College of Marin in this show. His Benedick, like Beatrice, is filled with warmth as well as wit. I have seen and played in humerous productions of this play, but Dukes is the first actor who has brought tears to my eyes with his declaration of love for Beatrice.

YOUNG LOVERS

David Haskell and Jill Cogswell play the young lovers—roles which ordinarily are gone and forgotten. Not so with these two, for Haskell, in fine contrast to her St. Joan in "The Lark," makes Hero an appealing ingenue with enough fire to avoid ickiness.

Kent Kay comes through with his best portrayal to date as Don John, the head villain. Scar-faced, bald, with a limp, he plays the role with an Italian accent as does his follower, Borachio, played with cigar-chewing relish by Roger Lane. Abetted by Tom Lowe, they form a fabulously funny group of bad guys.

In fact, they and the romantics are so funny that Shakespeare's comic relief, Dogberry, and his motely crew of cops seem far less funny than in most productions. I felt that Dunn erred in using the Italian accent for Dogberry, for the lines seem keyed to Cockney English. Richard Matthews appears to be working too hard at the role, but still milks a lot of laughs, with good assistance from Robert Deckleman's relaxed Verges.

BIG HAND

A vignette of gem-like quality comes from Gene Babo as Friar Francis, while Bryan Wittine's Don Pedro is smoothly competent. Mary Laura St. Denis and Claudia Keppell are excellent as ladies in waiting and Larry Smith sings pleasantly as Balthazar.

The audience showed its appreciation with a big hand for Lynda Anderson, Debby Nelson, Marty Coffman and Sylvia Scott, the nymphs who are on stage for the entire play, most of the time poised motionless. They well deserved the applause.

The show is beautifully costumed in the Napoleonic era, with male costumes from the movie "Desiree," and female dresses made at the college under supervision of Robin Jackson.

Edward K. Schoon adds another triumph in set design as Harlan Hall's Room is transformed into the spirit of Christmas rather than a locale.

Youths Injured In Car Mishap

Three Marin youths suffered minor injuries when their car slid off Highway 101 near Linden Lane, San Rafael, and overturned at 7:20 p.m. Friday, the California Highway Patrol reported.

Henry John Franz., 17, of 217 Blackstone Drive, Marinwood, driver of the southbound car, told officers he was starting to change lanes when the car started to skid on the wet roadway. He applied his brakes, and it rolled over.

Officers listed Franz and two passengers, Paul Granger, 18, of 230 San Jose Drive, Hamilton Air Force Base, and James Sanders, 18, of 18 Stasia Drive, Novato, as injured. All were treated at Marin General Hospital.

CONCERT REVIEW

Community Band Is Worth Hearing

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

Well worth getting out into the drab weather and laying aside holiday preparations to hear was the winter concert of the College of Marin Community Band last night in the college gymnasium.

Under the spirited direction of John H. Myers, the 50-piece band provided a very stimulating evening.

Seven of the nine selections were original compositions for band, and there was even an unknown march by Bruckner, who is largely known only for symphonies.

Balance among the choirs was good for the most part, with some pieces giving opportunity for showing what they could do separately.

After Sousa's attention rousing "The Galland Seventh March" the 17th already performed among the complete list of this composer's marches that Myers hopes to do — the overture to Weber's opera "Euryanthe" revealed considerable strength and beautiful, burnished tone in the brasses and great technical facility in the clarinets.

The most noteworthy part of Gordon Jacob's "Original Suite" consisting of three parts was the middle one, intermezzo, which had an almost vocal quality in the low woodwinds and horns.

Bruckner's March in E Flat Major was a curious piece with an unusual but pleasing theme.

Almost the entire second half of the program was new to us.

"Four Miniatures" of the Spanish composer Joaquin Turina were especially interesting in that the impressionistic style was of a very robust character in its depiction of dawn — a flaming one indeed—promenade, the approaching soldiers, and fiesta.

The use of the high pitched E flat trumpet was a novelty in "Valdres" by Johannes Hanssen, and though it was a Norwegian march, its rhythm was reminiscent of a rather heavy-footed folk dance.

In the contemporary sounding "Psalm" by Vincent Persichetti, the dialogue between choirs was beautifully timed, with that between clarinets and low brasses especially lovely.

The pulse-stirring "Bugles and Drums" march by Goldman was a suitably brilliant finale to the concert.

San Domenico Music Pupils To Perform

Musicians from San Domenico School in San Anselmo will be heard at 9 a.m. Jan. 21 when radio KKHI presents another in a series of youth concerts.

San Domenico's concert will feature a newly formed ensemble of English hand bell ringers; French compositions by two piano teams, and four songs by the San Domenico Singers, under the direction of Vincenzo Giannini.

College Chorus To Give Concert

Works by Benjamin Britten, Pergolesi, Mozart and Berlioz will be included in a concert of Christmas music given by the College of Marin A Cappella Chorus in the college gymnasium Friday at 8:30 p.m.

Faculty member Carolyn Witt will accompany the "Ceremony of Carols" by Britten, and Dr. S. Drummond Wolff the "Magnificat" by Pergolesi.

The chorus, directed by Dr. Wolff, will also include in its program traditional carols from France, England, Germany and Spain.

Sausalito Volunteer Firemen's Assn. has as its president Gene Pool.

Two Sopranos Present Interesting Program

Two widely differing sopranos, Dulace Scott and Anna Secrist, were presented in a well prepared recital Saturday night at the Outdoor Art Club in Mill Valley by their respective teachers, Bella Resek of Mill Valley and Dr. Guido Silva of Novato.

Mrs. Scott, who is a WAF staff sergeant at Hamilton Air Force Base, has a basically rich, warm mezzo soprano voice of considerable power when she is free from inhibitions.

She was not, however, until the second half of the concert, for in the first half, in her songs by Carissimi, Durante, Giordano and Strauss, she apparently lacked self-confidence. This resulted in an unvaried expressive level, some problems with pitch, and too much vibrato.

After intermission these difficulties were largely overcome so that her songs by Ponchielli, Gluck and Saint-Saens were much better, and by the time she came to the spirituals "Deep River" and "Sweet Little Jesus Boy," she was truly impressive.

Mrs. Secrist, who lives in Novato, has a light lyric voice and pert, gracious personality that shows to best advantage in songs suitable to soubrette-like characters, such as the one about the stability in a soldier by Mozart, and joyous ones like Schubert's "Die Forelle" and "Hark, Hark, the Lark."

Songs like those in her first group by Carlatti, Bononchini and Vivaldi are not her forte, since efforts in interpreting them resulted in a tense eye mannerism.

In her operatic arias, "Mi Chamano Mimi" from Puccini's "La Boheme" and the Jewel Song from Verdi's "Faust," she showed much vocal flexibility. One of her strongest points is ability to establish communication with an audience.

Despite their mide differences, the voices of the young women blended agreeably in their duet performance of the Barcarole from Offenbach's "Tales of Hoffman."

Two-Auto Collision Hurts Three

Three persons were injured in a two-car collision on Highway 101 in Corte Madera, opposite H. H. Koch and Sons luggage factory, at 3:08 a.m. yesterday, involving one car that was backing down the highway.

California Highway Patrol officers reported a car driven by Milan James DeRounden-Pos, 22, of 140 Live Oak Avenue, Fairfax, was backing down the highway when it collided with a southbound car driven by Preston Park Shackelford, 18, of 575 Canal Street, Apt. 8, San Rafael.

Officers said DeRounden-Pos had been unable to start his car and had backed down the shoulder and then onto the highway.

Terri Ann Hageman, 16, of 92 Laurel Lane, Fairfax, a passenger in DeRounden-Pos's car, suffered a fractured left arm. She was reported in good condition today in Marin General Hospital. Shackelford, who suffered a broken arm and multiple cuts, was reported in good condition in the same hospital, where DeRounden Pos, who suffered facial cuts and multiple bruises and scrapes, was also treated.

Mother, Her Infant Injured In Accident

A Daily City woman and her one-year-old daughter were injured in a two-car collision in the parking lot of the Corte Madera Shopping Center Saturday at 5:30 p. m.

Donna Ritter, 23, and her daughter, Stephanie, were taken to a private physician after they hit their heads on the windshield of a car driven by Miriam S. Lakeside, 22, of Daily City. Mrs. Lakeside's car collided with a car driven by Hedy Lu Stratton 23, of 332 Willow Avenue, Corte Madera, police reported.

Personal Income Slows; Nation's Economy Easing

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The rate of increase in personal income slowed in November, indicating further that the nation's economy has eased from its breakneck pace of last spring.

The Commerce Department reported yesterday that the November advance of $3.2 billion at an annual rate pushed personal income to a seasonally adjusted annual figure of $597.6 billion.

The November gain compared with an increase of $4.4 billion in October, $4.6 billion in September, and an average monthly advance of $3.7 billion during the past year.

Youths Arrested For Glue Sniffing

Two 13-year-old Corte Madera boys were charged with glue sniffing by Corte Madera police, who arrested the two at the Corte Madera Shopping Center at 3 p.m. Saturday.

One of the boys was also charged with shoplifting two cigarette lighters from the Thrifty Drug Store at the center. Police said he was carrying a throwing knife with a 7-inch blade.

Postal Unit Dedication Set

A self-ervice postal unit is scheduled for dedication in the Corte Madera Shopping Center Jan. 14.

Delays in the signing of a contract last week had endangered the location of the postal unit in the center, but spokesman for the regional post office director said the signed contract was received at the regional office today.

Work has already begun on foundation for the postal unit. Milton Meyer Co. of San Francisco, operator of the shopping center, after weeks of delay signed a contract with the post office to install the foundation.

San Rafael Soldier Honored For Valor

Army Pvt. Herman G. Zwirtz of San Rafael has been awarded the Silver Star for heroism in action in Vietnam.

The medal—the Nation's third highest ranking decoration after the Medal of Honor and the Distinguished Service Cross — was awarded for the part the 21-year old serviceman played in a battle described by him in a letter to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herman F. Zwirtz of 6 Coolidge Ave.

The letter, printed in the Independent-Journal Dec. 3, was written as casually as a college student might describe his first year away at school and furnished a vivid glimpse of the hardships, peril and humor of life in a combat zone.

He was decorated for rescuing his wounded platoon leader and another man in the battle described and for then seizing a machine gun to provide fire cover for his units withdrawal to waiting helicopters.

Zwirtz, whose parents announced the decoration, has a little less than 30 days to go on his year's tour of duty in Vietnam.

Brady, who suffered cuts of both hands, was treated at Marin General Hospital, and sent to the Marin County Jail where he was booked on charges of being drunk in and about an auto. Released on $110 bail, he is scheduled to appear in Marin Municipal Court for arraignment at 1:20 p. m. Wednesday.

Two Utility Companies Face Count Charges

Marin County Counsel Douglas L. Maloney has proposed misdemeanor charges be filed against Pacific Gas and Electric Co. and Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. over a standoff argument on undergrounding.

Prior to extension of a widened Lucas Valley Road, supervisors adopted an ordinance requiring undergrounding of utilities when streets are widened.

The two utility companies have refused to underground lines. The road work was finished about a month ago.

Maloney said the utilities claim the ordinance is not valid. His plan to file criminal charges will be discussed by supervisors tomorrow.

Mrs. Strom Says Intimidation Aim Of Teachers' Union Report

The California Federation of Teachers (AFL-CIO) was charged today by a San Rafael Board of Education member with attempting to intimidate school administrators.

The charge was contained in a letter to Eric Spiekermann, chairman of the CFT's academic freedom committee, by Mrs. Anita C. Strom, board member whose defeat at the polls was advocated by a CFT committee in a long-delayed report last week on an investigation of academic freedom in the San Rafael schools.

The report called for the dismissal of Asst. Supt. Mitchell L. Voydat and Supt. Bert C. Corona (the latter, however, left the San Rafael schools in June to become superintendent in Modesto).

Mrs. Strom, in her letter to Spiekermann, quoted the report's words that to question a teacher's choice of classroom material "is to question, to some extent, his competence, and thus effectively to imperil his livelihood."

"Whereas you are concerned lest the livelihood of teachers be jeopardized, this same concern is not shared for administrators," she wrote. "To the contrary, does it not appear that teachers unions are restorting to this kind of intimidation against administrators?"

Corona and Voydat, she wrote, "have spent their entire lives preparing and doing the work in which they are now engaged. They have families dependent on their ability to work in their chosen field. Only time will tell to what extent your 'report' may have damaged their careers, and a successful fruition of your recommendations would ruin them."

Noting that the committee which made the CFT investigation of alleged threats to academic freedom was made up entirely of teachers from outside the district, Mrs. Strom charged it was "in short, a committee of union members hand-picked by the union."

She wrote: "The 'report' is based on a telephone conversation, a newspaper report, and the self-serving statements of a few disgruntled, and it would appear by their own statements, in some cases, insubordinate teachers. How, then, could one expect this report to receive public credence and acceptance?"

Nothing that an introductory note to the report said "there appear to be no immediate threats to academic freedom in either of these schools (San Rafael and Terra Linda high schools) at this time," Mrs. Strom raised the question: "In view of this conclusion, why release the report at all? And in view of this conclusion, why demand the dismissal of Dr. Voydat?"

As to the CFT advocacy of her defeat, the board member wrote:

"If I am a candidate, and I haven't as yet reached any conclusion, and if you wish to oppose me, that may well be your right on behalf of your membership. However, I also believe in the right of the taxpayers and of the parents and of the school board members to pursue their ligitimate functions. This, too, I believe—that if the day ever comes when the union achieves complete domination of the school boards and of the administrators, that will be a sad day for education and for the children of California."

Doctors Reject Opposition To Vietnam Crop Killing

Marin Medical Society's board of directors' September resolution opposing the use of crop-killing and defoliation chemicals in Vietnam got the axe this weekend.

In a special referendum, 115 Marin doctor members of the society opposed the resolution, while 94 supported it.

It was unclear, however, whether the resolution—mailed to President Johnson, governmental agencies and representatives, and the press—will be rescinded.

Don Sower, society executive secretary, explained: "The vote doesn't necessarily mean all 115 are in favor of the use of chemicals in Vietnam. Doctors could disagree with the board's action because of a feeling the subject was outside the purpose of a medical society.

"On the other hand, of course, the doctors could disagree with the specific opinion."

The 209 doctors, representing an unprecedented 92 per cent vote of active membership, were asked to vote on: "Do you endorse the action of the board of directors of the Marin Medical Society of Sept. 26 in passing the following resolution . . . "

What will happen now? "Possibly nothing," said Sower. "The matter will be further discussed at the next board meeting on Dec. 26."

Results of the referendum were announced Saturday at the society's dinner-dance at the Meadow Club. Results of the ballot for new officers were announced too.

The new president-elect is Dr. John McGee. Secretary treasurer will again be Dr. William A. Galeno. Dr. Michael J. Franzblau and Dr. Michael D. Scholl were elected for three-year terms to the six-man board of directors.

Dr. McGee was named delegate to the California Medical Assn., with Dr. Gus A. Raney as alternate.

Dr. Arthur R. Ablin, last year's president-elect, will assume the president office for the coming year.

The resolution originally proposed by Dr. Paul Davidson of San Rafael, was adopted by a majority of the board of directors in September.

It stated: "The present use of defoliation and anti-crop chemicals by the United States in the Vietnam conflict poses a potential serious threat to mankind. The initiation of the use of this type of weapon is a distinct change in the United States policy that prevailed in the Second World War. It is an invitation to the use of more lethal chemical and biological weapons by one nation against another. These weapons have the potential of decimating huge civilian populations."

Dognaper At Work Again

A case of dognaping was reported in Novato Saturday.

Murl Smith Maher of 1833 Center Road reported someone took his gray French poodle, valued at $50 from its pen, between noon and 5:30 p.m.

Police said the fence around the dog's kennel was too high for it to jump out and it could not have broken the wire that held the gate closed. The gate had been unwired and left open, police said. A neighbor reported hearing the dog bark in the middle of the afternoon, according to police. Mahler was away from home.

Park Report Due At Meeting Tonight

Progress on two of Navato's city parks will be reported to the Novato Parks and Recreation Commission when it meets at 8 p.m. today in the Novato Community House.

Edward W. Adams, parks and recreation director, will also report on plans for the Christmas vacation playground program.

Boundary Study Is On Agenda

The Corte Madera Planning Commission will consider the town's "ultimate boundaries" today at 7:30 p.m. at Town Hall.

The Local Agency Formation Commission asked the Town Council to indicate the town's plans for its final boundaries, and the council referred the question to the planning commission.

LIFE INSIDE

The Life Of Prisoners

By STEPHEN COOK

At 3 p.m. Saturday, 70 Marin County high school boys understood, with a twinge of sadness, just what penalties men pay for a life of crime.

As the boys lined up for a walk to freedom outside San Quentin walls, 30 new friends called out over-the-shoulder farewells while prison guards herded them off to their small, steel-barred homes.

The penitentiary's 3 p.m. cell count had abruptly ended a rare day for the teen-aged boys and for their hosts and confidantes since 9 a.m. — a select group of convicts.

The experiment, which even included a nervous noon-day walk through the prison's populous main yard, was organized by a group of inmates called the Squires.

STRAIGHT WORD

Announced purpose was to let the convicts give the straight word on prison life to boys from seven high schools. Perhaps the men paying for their mistakes could stop some youths from making the same errors.

Though they may not have planned it, the day also had some benefits for the prisoners, according to Leo F. Shepherd, administrator of the program.

"These convicts are really pretty cynical men," he said, "but I can see that, after talking to these boys, they're beginning to think 'if these are the type of people out there, maybe it's not so bad after all.'"

Program for the day was fellowship, frank talks and a little advice, with the boys mingling freely and virtually unsupervised with a group of inmates, whose misdeeds ranged from marijuana peddling to murder.

TEACHERS SCARCE

The boys were accompanied to the prison by 20 teachers, but once through the prison gates, the educators made themselves scarce.

In the prison's Garden Chapel, the chaperones and the few prison administrators present sat apart as inmates mixed with the boys and began winning friends.

Program chairman Anthony Stowers, aged 25 and doing time for selling marijuana, won applaus from the teen-agers with a welcoming speech which assessed their problems. He said:

"You've got rights to more than your parents just having you and saying 'that's my boy.' You've got something to say. Someday you'll be making the world's decisions. What we want to tell you is don't blow your cool. Don't blow your soul before you get a chance to make those decisions."

CROSS-SECTION

The boys, selected by their teachers to present a cross-section of good to bad in studies and behavior, were told by keynote speaker Carl Presscott:

"Of all the members of the Squires, 75 per cent of us were offenders as youths. Most of us were in pretty much the same grooves you may be in now. And now, San Quentin is the place where most of us deserve to be. San Quentin is socks with holes in them and not quite enough to eat."

In the audience, a convict arose to say prison is a lot worse than that. He also warned the boys that, if they wanted to know what it is like, they should not take the administration-guided tour.

"It's nothing but a phony," he said. "They take you through the better areas. If you do that, disregard everything you see. They don't take you through the south block, where the cells and decks are filthy and there's cold water. They don't show you the adjustment center, which is a prison inside a prison."

WHAT IT'S LIKE

"How do we find out what it's like?" asked one of the students.

"I'll tell you what it's like," a convict said. "Just imagine being in a six by 11 foot cell, not big enough for one man, only there's two of you. You can't pass without touching and you both smell."

At noon, prison administration assumed brief control of the program as Shepherd lined the boys up, warned them to stick close, then nervously marched them through the main yard under the cool gaze of the general inmate population.

Shepherd said it was the first time such a large group of "free men" had walked through the yard while the convicts were out.

"There was a time when this would never have happened. And that's not too long ago," he said.

MESS HALL

Some of the inmates hooted as the group walked by. "See what I mean? Hear that?" Shepherd asked.

Inside the mess hall, the boys received the prison's meal for the day — creole soup, crackers, Spanish beans, a green onion and an apple. At the last minute, someone thought to substitute milk for coffee.

They sat elbow to elbow at the hall's close-quarter tables and ate and chatted with their inmate hosts.

A blonde, crew-cut inmate named Rick, who looked not much older than the guests, told them he never thought he would land in prison when he began stealing cars in his freshman year at college. One boy asked if things would have been different if he'd had a chance to visit the prison.

'STEALING CARS'

"I'm not sure," he said. "While I was stealing cars, I was in a sociology class at Monterey College which came up here on a tour. It was just intellectual curiousity for me. It didn't stop me from stealing. I think it depends whether the visit hits you on an intellectual or an emotional level."

In the afternoon, the inmates divided the boys into groups of five or six and took them off for talks uninhibited by the presence of the establishment — administration or teachers and counselors.

Discussion topics were open ended. One boy, perhaps still not convinced that a convict's life is not glamorous, bragged of his marijuana experiences and brushes with the law.

Another in the same group said he knew marijuana would not make him sick, but that he wouldn't use it for fear it might lead to other drugs more dangerous.

"If that's your reason for not taking the drug, then I won't say anything. It's a good reason because it will keep you from using marijuana. It's illegal and, smoking it, you could end up here," said inmate Richard Acosta.

ARMED ROBBERIES

Another prisoner said he had been stealing since he was a boy and never thought he'd get caught "until I got busted on two puny armed robberies and drew a five-to-life sentence. I'm rehabilitated now. Nothing is worth the risk of getting sent up here."

Stowers, convict chairman of the program, assessed the day's effect on the inmates, saying: "It's like drinking your own medicine. When you tell the kids what's good for them, the same goes for you."

He said convicts hope the program is successful enough to continue as a regular program and be extended to boys from other counties.

"You know, we sort of recreate ourselves when we're helping others," he said.

An indicator of the program's success or failure will be taken this week, back at the seven high schools — Tamalpais, Redwood, Drake, Marin Catholic, San Rafael, Terra Linda and Novato — when teachers take the reactions of the boys in tape-recorded discussions. The tapes will be sent to the prison for evaluation.

School Burglar Alarm On Tap

Installation of a perimeter burglar alarm at Manzanita School in Marin City will be considered today by Sausalito School District trustees when they meet at 8:45 p.m. at the district office, Nevada and Water streets. The alarm would cost $400 to install and $30 a month to service.

Also on the agenda is a proposed agreement with Weisbach, Boutmy and Silver, district architects, for a building program.

The meeting is later than usual to allow Sausalito trustees to attend the meeting of Mill Valley School District trustees, who will consider transfer to the Sausalito district of the western side of Tennessee Valley.

In 1947, John L. Lewis withdrew his United Mine Workers from the American Federation of Labor for the second time.

In 1953, Maj. Charles Yaeger flew a research jet plane more than 2½ times the speed of sound.

Sooner or later in every bad dream one of the chief characters buries his face in his hands and wails, "Where did I go wrong?"

DUMMY LEAD

My friend, Ronald Blau, played today's hand some years ago.

He took the first trick with the ace of diamonds, cashed the top hearts to get rid of a diamond and then led the jack of clubs from dummy.

East took the king of clubs and led the nine of diamonds. West discarded a heart, and East led another diamond.

Declarer ruffed with the ten of spades, and West discarded his last heart.

Blau gave up another club to East, and back came another diamond. Declarer had to ruff with the jack to shut West out.

South now led his last club and ruffed in dummy.

He drew two rounds of trumps with the ace and queen, and then merely had to get back to his hand to draw West's last trump.

IMPOSSIBLE FEAT

Unfortunately, South couldn't get to his hand. He had to lead a heart from dummy, with just the K-8 of trumps in his hand.

If South ruffed low, West would over-ruff; and if South ruffed with the king, West's nine would become the high trump.

WRONG MOVE

"Where did I go wrong?" Blau blurted out.

The odds are that we'd have done the same thing, but it's easy to see the error from our safe kibitzing spot.

The first three tricks—ace of diamonds and two top hearts—were right. But then South must ruff a heart.

The rest is the same, but when South finally ruffs a club in dummy and cashes dummy's two high trumps, he has only the king of spades left in his hand. That's a trick he cannot lose.

DAILY QUESTION

Dealer, at your right, bids one diamond.

What do you say?

Answer: Pass, if you are the average player in the average game. This hand is worth a bid only if you use the weak jump overcall, and you'd better be non-vulnerable to make a jump bid on this junky hand.

Don't Ever Wait Too Late To Ask Dramatic Question

Sooner or later in every bad dream one of the chief characters buries his face in his hands and wails, "Where did I go wrong?"

DUMMY LEAD

My friend, Ronald Blau, played today's hand some years ago.

He took the first trick with the ace of diamonds, cashed the top hearts to get rid of a diamond and then led the jack of clubs from dummy.

East took the king of clubs and led the nine of diamonds. West discarded a heart, and East led another diamond.

Declarer ruffed with the ten of spades, and West discarded his last heart.

Blau gave up another club to East, and back came another diamond. Declarer had to ruff with the jack to shut West out.

South now led his last club and ruffed in dummy.

He drew two rounds of trumps with the ace and queen, and then merely had to get back to his hand to draw West's last trump.

IMPOSSIBLE FEAT

Unfortunately, South couldn't get to his hand. He had to lead a heart from dummy, with just the K-8 of trumps in his hand.

If South ruffed low, West would over-ruff; and if South ruffed with the king, West's nine would become the high trump.

WRONG MOVE

"Where did I go wrong?" Blau blurted out.

The odds are that we'd have done the same thing, but it's easy to see the error from our safe kibitzing spot.

The first three tricks—ace of diamonds and two top hearts—were right. But then South must ruff a heart.

The rest is the same, but when South finally ruffs a club in dummy and cashes dummy's two high trumps, he has only the king of spades left in his hand. That's a trick he cannot lose.

DAILY QUESTION

Dealer, at your right, bids one diamond.

You hold:

♠ K J 10 8 7 5
♦ 8 7 6
♣ 5 4 2

What do you say?

Answer: Pass, if you are the average player in the average game. This hand is worth a bid only if you use the weak jump overcall, and you'd better be non-vulnerable to make a jump bid on this junky hand.

Really Cooling It

NORTH POLE, Alsaka (UPI)—The Lions Club of this suburb of Fairbanks has no time for jokes about selling refrigerators to Eskimos. For the after-eating entertainment at their weekly meeting, the clubmen ordered a film, "The Air Around Us," describing how Willis Carrier invented air conditioning.

ALMANAC

Today is Monday, Dec. 12, the 346th day of 1966 with 19 to follow.

The moon is between its new phase and first quarter. The morning stars are Mars and Jupiter. The evening star is Saturn.

First Justice of the United States Supreme Court, John Jay, was born on this day in 1741.

On this day in history:

In 1901, the Atlantic Ocean was bridged by the miracle of the wireless for the first time. Guglielmo Marconi in Newfoundland intercepted the letter "S" sent by Morse code by an operator in the British Isles.

In 1947, John L. Lewis withdrew his United Mine Workers from the American Federation of Labor for the second time.

In 1953, Maj. Charles Yaeger flew a research jet plane more than 2½ times the speed of sound.

A thought for the day—American theologian Jonathan Edwards said: "I assert nothing comes to pass without a cause."

TIME AND TIDE

Department of Commerce, United States Coast Geodetic Survey, Western District headquarters. Times and heights of tides at San Francisco (Golden Gate):

MAN IN A HURRY—Although it looks like this soldier is ready to leap out of the helicopter at treetop level, he's really a crewman leaning out over the waist-mounted machine gun, helping the pilot steer the heavily-armed chopper into a jungle clearing. The flight carried supplies for troops of the 25th Infantry Division battling near the Cambodian border late last week.
(AP Wirephoto)

THE LITTER OF WAR—An Army OH-113 bubbletop helicopter and its pilot rest in a jungle clearing west of Pleiku, alongside a pile of spent 105mm artillery casings, during the 25th Infantry's chase of a North Vietnamese regiment.
(AP Wirephoto)

WAR IS WET FEET—A South Vietnamese soldier empties boots of water after a doy's slogging through flooded areas of the Mekong Delta. Troops searching for enemy some 80 miles southwest of Saigon this week sometimes were in head-deep floodwaters. (AP Wirephoto)

ALLIES ARGUE--Relations between the U.S. and South Viet Nam were strained this week when U.S. military police arrested Saigon's mayor, paratroop Col. Van Van Cua. Reports said he was firing a submachine gun into the air during a night on the town, and put up an argument when the MPs tried to disarm him. (AP Wirephoto)

DEFENSIVE LABOR—A GI catches and gruntingly passes along sandbags being piled around a gun emplacement near the Cambodian border. He's likely thinking that this kind of labor is worth three bucks an hour, back home.
(UPI Telephoto)

SCANT THANKS HE GETS—And when the laboring sandbag-tosser, still at his work, gets wisecracks from buddies from jungle patrol, that three bucks may look better and better. At least, the gun emplacement's a better place to be when the enemy come slipping and shooting through the jungle.

'66 BUICK GRAN SPORT CONVERT $3095
Here's an almost-new '66 Gran Sport Convertible that has only 5,000 miles and was Mrs. Collins' personal car.

This fire engine red convert. has had loving care and hasn't a mark of wear or a scratch anywhere. Red bucket seats with console, power steering, power windows, radio, heater, w/w tires and all the Gran Sport luxury extras.

This car has never been licensed and carries the full two-year or 24,000-mile warranty. The purchaser will be the only owner of record.

Sticker price when new was $4000. Kelly Blue Book shows a used car like this one should sell for $3095 on a used car lot. We'll sell this car for $3095—yet guarantee it for two years just like a brand new one.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Select Toys That Can Help In Development Of The Child

VAN DELLEN

Toys should stir the imagination, encourage creative ability, and train the child for better living. This is a big order because not many playthings are developed with these ideas in mind. Some toys serve their purpose in a child's growth but are abandoned as soon as they are outgrown.

Ideally the adult should select toys from manufacturers who consider child development. The age, interest, and mental and physical abilities must be taken into account because the proper gift encourages independence and a sense of accomplishment. An air rifle, dart game, sharp knife, or chemistry set is too dangerous for children who do not understand the hazards involved. Say to yourself, "Is it safe to let Johnnie play with this toy without my supervision?"

WHEN SELECTING toys for babies and toddlers, avoid marbles, coins, beads, and any small plaything that may find its way into the mouth. The same applies to stuffed animals with button eyes, whistles with removable mouthpieces and pull toys with parts that may become loose. Approximately 600 children under 5 years of age die each year as a result of choking. Cheaply constructed and breakable toys come apart. The jagged edges cut and cause infections.

Buy only those electrical toys approved by the Underwriters' laboratories. Teach the child how to use these playthings and explain the dangers. Be sure to repair frayed cords or any defects which may cause shock.

THE STORAGE of play equipment seldom is mentioned, but serious falls result when toys are left on steps, stairways, walks, or in the yard. Get a chest or shelf and insist that toys be put away at the appropriate time.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the I-J.)

ULCER HEALING

C. A. writes: How long does it take for a stomach ulcer to heal?

REPLY

From months to years, depending upon treatment and how well the victim cooperates with his physician. Relief of symptoms does not mean the ulcer has healed. Many patients are relieved of pain within a day or two with antacids and diet yet we know that healing has not occurred. Furthermore, bleeding from the stomach may be the first indication that ulcer exists, demonstrating that the lesion may develop without the slightest discomfort.

HEART POUNDING AND STAIRS

P.B. writes: Should the heart of a 39-year-old woman pound after she climbs the subway or "L" stairs? She has to rest on reaching the top.

REPLY

Not unless she is too heavy or has an organic heart disorder or a nervous condition such as neurocirculatory asthenia.

ARM NUMBNESS

V. G. writes: What causes the arms to fall asleep while a person is driving a car?

REPLY

There is pressure upon the nerves or blood vessels of the upper extremities when the arms are held in the driving position. Numbness is common when a person is musclebound or has a cervical rib or allied abnormality in the neck.

DROOLING BOY

Mrs. N. writes: Is severe drooling in a 3-year-old boy serious? He seems bright and intelligent.

REPLY

Probably not, but a thorough checkup is warranted in a case like this.

Post Office Is Considering A Hike In Rates

A Post Office spokesman said over the weekend the increase is needed because of a "very, very tight" fiscal situation. He explained the department now has about $1.2 billion in deficits.

"One way or another, the users of the mail are going to have to pay for the service they get," he said, "whether it is from the general treasury taxes or in postage."

The spokesman said a decision is expected soon. If the increase is sought, he added, it probably would affect all classes of mail except parcel post, whose rates were increased earlier this year.

Employees Given Service Awards

Seven employees with 20 or more years service with McPhail's Inc., of San Rafael received gold watches at the company's annual dinner.

The awards brought the present number of employees with the company this length of time to 17, said J. L. Jenkines, office manager.

Watches went to: Chester L. Taylor of 313 Greenfield Avenue, San Anselmo; Don Crews, 68 Greenbrae Boardwalk, Greenbrae; M. S. Dahlquist of 1005 Calle Empinado, Novato; G. C. Wright of Santa Rosa; and David J. Bowman of 2 Los Huertas Court, David G. Stephens of 46 Lochinvar and, Walter Becker of 71 Las Ranchitas Road, all of San Rafael.

Boat Skipper's Body Is Found

ALAMEDA (UPI) —An autopsy was performed yesterday on the body of an Oakland woman found floating about 200 yards off Bay Farm Island.

She was identified as Helen Bryant, 27, of Oakland. Alameda County Coroner's deputies said results of the autopsy would not be known for about a week.

Miss Bryant, a diabetic, disappeared Thursday after she took her 26-foot cabin cruiser out for a short trip. The empty boat was found Friday in mudflats a mile south of here.

Book On JFK Arouses Family

CHICAGO (AP) — A book commissioned by the family of John F. Kennedy to describe the aftermath of his assassination has arousned their anger, the Chicago Daily News says.

The family "is engaged in a strange and bitter struggle to delete" Mrs. Kennedy's recollections from "The Death of a President" written by William Manchester, according to Peter Lisager, Daily News Washington bureau chief.

Lisager quoted one person who had read the manuscript as saying, "Jackie now regrets having poured out her soul to Manchester as if he were a psychiatrist." Manchester was selected by the Kennedys to write the book.

Youths Speeds To His Death

MARION, N.C. (AP)—A youth who lost his driver's license last week for going 90 miles an hour lost his life driving 130 miles an hour Saturday night, the state highway patrol said.

He was identified as Jerry Dean Holtsclaw, 20, of Marion.

Two other Marion youths also were killed when Holtsclaw lost control of his father's car on U.S. 221 while being chased by two state highway patrolmen.

There are 18 million men and women 65 years of age or more in the U.S.

Rescue Sub To Be Ready In Mid-1968

SUNNYVALE, Calif. (AP)—The Lockheed Missiles and Space Co., prime contractor for the Navy's Deep Submergence Rescue Vehicle, disclosed today a model of the craft's three-sphere inner hull.

The vehicle is a 49-foot submarine which will be able to descend as much as 3,500 feet to remove the crew from a disabled sub resting on the bottom, Lockheed said.

The rescue sub will take on 24 crewmen. An inner hull will be made of steel, built to withstand great pressure. Each of the spheres will be interconnected. Two of the spheres are to house the rescued crewmen and the third will be for the pilot, copilot and medical corpsman.

Lockheed said delivery of an operational prototype is scheduled for mid-1968.

Teen-Age Driver Rams Children, Kills Two

BAY CITY, Mich. (UPI)—A teen-age driver, apparently ignoring a frantic crossing guard, rammed his car into a group of 12 little children on their way to school today. Two were killed.

The other 10 children scattered when the car kept coming. They were not hurt.

The driver, Dale Brice Jackson, 19, Sebewaing, Mich., was arrested. Police Chief Alvin Bridges said Jackson's car drove at least 200 feet beyond the intersection where the accident occurred, then hit a sign and veered into a lawn.

The victims were identified as Kaleen Kennett, 6, and Michael Lowe, 7.

"I tried to stop him maybe 200 or 300 feet away from the corner," Crossing Guard Frank Causley said. "I was out in the second lane. I had red straps on and I have a red sign with Police' and 'Stop' on it.

"He didn't stop for anything. It happened so fast it was pitiful.

"It was terrible."

Causley said Jackson was driving about 35 or 40 miles an hour.

Causley said Jackson drove "over a half block" beyond the accident scene, then ran into a house.

Bridges said Causley told him Jackson "acted as though he were in a trance and he drove right through and killed these children."

"There were no skid marks," Bridges said.

He said Causley came into police headquarters after the accident and resigned.

"I'm all through," the chief quoted Causley as saying. "I'll never witness a thing like that again."

Agency Taking Close Look At New Car Warranties

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Federal Trade Commission (FTC) is examining new car warranties in an apparent effort to see just how much they offer the consumer. The FTC inquiry comes in the form of a 27-page questionnaire which the auto makers are to return to the government later this month. It asks for details on warranty practices and how many customers were satisfied with warranty service.

Commission spokesmen will not say what they plan to do with the answers but the director of its Bureau of Deceptive Practices said it would act only if a matter of public interest were involved.

The director, Charles Sweeney, said "the only determination the commission has made is that there may be a problem here.

"From the information we have, we feel there is justification to conduct an investigation," Sweeney said.

Sweeney conceded the FTC never intended to make its investigation public—at least not at this point. But FTC Chairman Paul Rand Dixon disclosed recently that warranties were being studied by his agency. He refused to comment further.

In the questionnaires, carmakers are asked how many complaints they received from customers on warranty claims during the 1964-1966 model years. They were asked to break down the complaints by type—gas mileage, mechanical defects, etc., and by make and model.

One question asked how many times the carmakers gave a customer a new car when it was unable to satisfactorily repair a defective one.

The questionnaire also asks how much the carmakers budgeted and spent for warranty claims the past three years, how much was spent on so-called "callback" campaigns and whether the company pays dealers to perform warranty repairs at the same rates the dealers charge for non-warranty work.

Police Find Stolen Auto Stripped Down

A 1964 Buick, reported stolen from the Corte Madera Shopping Center parking lot Friday evening, was found in a Marin City carport Saturday, stripped of wheels, seats, and motor parts.

The Mercedes-Benz 230S poses the question—is there such a thing as too much car for the money? Clip coupon for answers.

Up front in the 230S is an exotic, single overhead camshaft Six. Underneath, one of the most sophisticated suspension designs outside the racing world. And the 230S doesn't really need its 9.9-inch front disc brakes. Sheer engineering extravagance—or something better? Read on, then decide for yourself.

SOME critics claim that the Mercedes-Benz 230S uses unique technical features when something more mundane would do. That it's "over-engineered."

"It has more than enough brakes for its potential speed. It has the capacity to go around a corner much, much faster than anybody's ever going to go. It rides very well. The seats are designed to sustain loads and provide comfort over a longer period of time than anyone is ever going to sit in them. It's a 100 percent kind of automobile."

To those who view a car as a machine and not an image builder, this "over-engineering" makes eminent good sense. And makes the 230S well worth its $4900 price. Some reasons for that price—and some answers to the charge of "over-engineering":

"Everybody in America is going fast today, but how many of us can stop?"

The 230S can stop—and stop and stop and stop. Two strong reasons: a 9.9-inch disc brake on each front wheel.

Designed for 150-mph racing cars, disc brakes banish the threat of fade in repeated hard use. The threat of brake "lock-up" is vastly reduced. Water and dust have little effect.

Extra benefits at no extra cost: A power assist that takes the work out of braking, and dual circuit brake lines that remove the possibility of total brake failure.

"It will go down a nasty little one-lane country road just as well as it goes down the New York Thruway"
—Automotive editor

It has to. Mercedes-Benz cars are sold in 156 countries where nasty little one-lane country roads are often the only roads. A spongy "boulevard" ride won't do in Afghanistan or Iceland. Mercedes-Benz engineers had to come up with something better.

Their solution, borrowed from racing experience: a fully independent, rear swing axle suspension.

You can slam the 230S over a railway crossing and it won't still be bouncing half a mile down the road. You can travel corkscrew mountain passes and enjoy the ride. If so inclined, you could smoothly sweep around a racing circuit—without as much as pumping up the tires beforehand.

No gasping or guzzling

Those big V-8's can cruise at 90 mph—at 8 miles per gallon or so. Tiny engines sip fuel, but at 65 mph they're gasping for breath.

The 230S gives you the best of both: its 6-cylinder, single overhead camshaft engine could run at a restful 90 mph for hours, yet doesn't guzzle gas in normal driving.

This design was originally intended for the brutal stresses of racing. The engine is built up to near racing tolerances—as fine as .019 of a millimeter for bearings.

Mercedes-Benz presents radiator medallions to owners who have clocked 60,000, 250,000, and over 300,000 miles. The demand is steady.

A contributing factor: the 230S body is a rigid steel shell, welded at 10,000 points. This "unit" method of construction makes obsolete the separate frame and body type, with its nuts and bolts and rattles.

—industrial designer

The 230S seats five in considerable comfort. It does not lure you with stereo tape players or 443 color combinations. It doesn't have to:

"When you jump into it and close the door and start it up, the way the switches work, the way the door handles work, the way the seat feels when you get into it, the way the ratchet on the seat recliner feels when you change the seat adjustment—all of those things add up to an overwhelming feeling of luxury." —David E. Davis Jr.

Mercedes-Benz motor cars: from $25,785 to $4,189

You may be able to afford a Mercedes-Benz without knowing it. Below are suggested retail prices* for 7 of the 15 Mercedes-Benz models:

| 600 Grand Mercedes | $25,785 |
| 300SE Coupe | 11,916 |
| 230SL Roadster | 6,262 |

| 200 Diesel Sedan | 4,418 |
| 200 Sedan | 4,189 |

Engineered for safety

The 230S imparts a feeling of reassurance; it puts the driver and his passengers at their ease. It is engineered to help you avoid trouble, and it is engineered for maximum protection if trouble should occur.

Front and rear body sections are designed to yield on violent impact, to absorb shock before it can hit the passenger area. Some amazing tests have shown that in roll-over crashes at 65 mph, the roof stayed intact. Inside, you will not find one careless or shabby touch. The rearview mirror is spring mounted to snap off if struck, for example. The steering wheel hub looks like a doughnut; it is padded, not pointed.

Tars Thrashed In Tournament Finals

By GARY TISCHLER

As a tournament finale, it was pretty final.

College of Marin, which swept into the finals of its own tournament with a hair-raising upset of powerful Laney Friday, couldn't raise one hair on a shaggy dog Saturday as American River College whipped the Tars on the boards and gunned them down from the field in a dazzling display by its fearsome foursome of Gary Foster, Isaac Fontaine, Mike Ames and Jewett Steele that resulted in a fast 89-52 runaway.

The potent Bevers, who hardly worked up enough sweat to take a shower, swept to the title in awesome fashion. The closest anybody got was Santa Rosa on opening night and that was a distant 19 points. Yuba lost out by 39 points and the Tars by 37. You might say it was a waltz, but the frug would be closer to the tempo.

As a result, the Beavers took everything home but the ticket stubs and consolation prizes. Their coach, Bud Gardner, was named outstanding coach; Foster, a burly, 6-2, 200-pound clutch shooter was named its most valuable player, and he and Fontaine and Steele were named to the all-tournament team along with Marin's sparkplug guard Bill Pandiani and Laney's Murphy Ward.

The Tars did a complete about face against the Beavers. Where they took control against Laney and set the pace of the game, the Tars could only play catchup against the Beavers. They were in trouble right after the opening jump ball.

Independent-Journal Sports

FOURTH SECTION Mon., Dec. 12, 1966 33

Marin's biggest problem, outside of the Beavers, was its inability to find the shooting range. The Tars were so cold they should have worn mittens. They shot like they were. They finished the night with an antarctic 26 per cent from the field, hitting 22 of 86, including 10 of 43 in the first half. Only Terry Overlid was reasonably accurate, hitting three of six for 33 per cent. But guard Russ Smith, who usually has a better touch, was 1 for 12, Pandiani was 3 for 13, Kraig Kilby 1 for 9 and sub Joe Wright contributed 0 for 5 in his brief appearance.

The Tars' frigidity extended to the free throw line where they connected on only eight of 20 shots. In addition, they were thoroughly manhandled on the boards where they lost out to the tune of 62-41.

The Beavers were a different story. They hit their first three shots in the first half and their first four in the second half, finished with 37 of 76 for 48 per cent including 23 of 41 in a torrid second half.

American River broke through Marin's usually effective press as if it were a sieve and scored easy fast break buckets off the breakthrough. Meanwhile, the rubbery Fontaine and guard Ames dominated the boards as they grabbed off 28 rebounds between them.

Fontaine topped the scoring with 22 poins, Foster chipped in for 20, Ames had 17 and Steele added 14 while Luz topped Marin with 11 points and Overlid had 10.

The Beavers rattled off eight straight points before the Tars managed to get on the board with a tip-in by Luz. Marin managed to stay close and got to within 10-14 on successive baskets by Smith and Luz before the roof started to crumble.

The Beavers got their first big spread at 31-19 when they reeled off six straight points and led 37-25 at the half.

It was teh same story in the second half. The Tars missed their first five shots and before they connected, on a jumper

SACRAMENTO, SAN JOSE MAY GET PRO FOOTBALL

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The Continental Football League may be operating an eight-team West Coast division next season.

Sol Rosen, league commissioner, made the announcement yesterday after meeting here with representatives of western cities which do not have professional football teams.

The 10-team league currently operates in the East, from Montreal and Toronto in Canada to Orlando in Florida.

Rosen said extension to the West Coast was "subject to ratification . . . by the CFL owners at their annual meeting in Miami Beach next month."

Tentative plans were worked out at the San Francisco meeting, Rosen said, to enroll cities such as Seattle, Portland, Anaheim, Sacramento, San Jose, Eugene and Victoria, B.C. Phoenix and Las Vegas also have shown interest in the league, the commissioner said.

ALONG MARIN'S SPORTS TRAIL

By JIM GILMARTIN
I-J Sports Editor

'Fight Of Century' A Dud, But The Football Was Exciting

A DUD—Anticipating the "Fight of the Century" yesterday at Kezar Stadium, I packed up a box lunch of cigars and donned my very best Cauliflower Canyon duds—that is grey pin-stripe suit, black shirt with the pearl buttons, fedora and smoked cheaters. I even talked out of the side of my mouth like they do at ringside.

This was the long-awaited rematch between Monty "Rocky" Stickles and Joe "Sugar" Fortunato. It was a dud. Shucks, I've seen better fights at Katharine Branson School for Girls.

AS YOU KNOW, Rocky and Sugar are football players for the 49ers and Bears respectively and they got into a fistic dispute a couple of weeks ago in Chicago. Fortunato vowed revenge and the stage was all set for yesterday.

The rematch just didn't materialize as the heavyweights decided to play football instead and merely shoved each other around, as tight ends and corner linebackers do in every game.

THE DAY wasn't a complete bust, however, as the promoters surrounded the "fight" with a very good football game in which the 49ers bared their fangs or fanged their Bears by the reversible score of 41-14. Read it backwards.

This was what relations men call a "ticket seller" or a "gate builder." The 37,170 souls in attendance will come back next Sunday and chances are they'll bring their friends. This game had a little of everything and a lot of thrills.

Kermit Alexander, the able defensive back, enjoyed his best day as a pro, scoring touchdowns on a fumble recovery and punt return, intercepting a pass to set up his team's first score and passing out towels in the locker room.

KERMIT'S FIRST touchdown started out as a very bad play on his part. He slipped in the mud, leaving a Bear pass receiver wide open but the Chicagoan, in his haste, fumbled the ball, Alexander scooped it up and raced into never-never land.

THE PRETTIEST 49er play of the game if not the season also started all wrong. Rookie Alvin Randolph intercepted a Bear pass on the San Francisco six and fell down. Now this is not the way to set a team record. But Alvin got up and proceeded to gal-

Defense Wrecks Bears In Kezar Game

By JACK STEVENSON

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Kermit Alexander, who plays defense, outshone the Chicago Bears offensive alignment in point production and hence the San Francisco 49ers might yet win the runner-up spot in the National Football League's Western Division.

Alexander set up the first 49er touchdown with a pass interception, scored twice himself and coached a rookie to a San Francisco record pass interception return.

All this as the 49ers smothered the Bears 41-14 at Kezar Stadium yesterday.

On the fourth play after Alexander intercepted a Rudy Bukich pass at the Chicago 30, the 49ers had their first touchdown and led 10-7. That tally came on John Brodie's pass to fullback Ken Willard on a play covering 57 yards.

Then in rapid succession, Alexander scooped up a ball fumbled by Jim Jones and ran 14 to score and then returned a punt 44 for another tally.

Then came the run by Alvin Randolph, the rookie from Iowa, which broke a 20-year-old 49er record.

UP AND AWAY

He picked up a Bukich pass at the 49er six and fell. Then he was up and threaded his way 94 yards to score.

"I told him to get up and run," said Kermit. "It's hard for a rookie to remember you can get up and run if you fall. I had to be told that when I was a rookie."

In the college game, the ball would be dead.

Randolph added, "I was just lying there until Kermit told me to get up. He blocked a couple of guys for me, too. I don't know who got the blocks for me after that. All I know is that every time I cut toward a guy in a red shirt, he cut down a guy in a white shirt."

As the league stands now, going into the finales, both Los Angeles and Baltimore have 8-5 records and San Francisco is 6-5-2. If Green Bay beats the Rams and San Francisco defeats Baltimore at Kezar, the 49ers would have a .583 percentage on 7-5, with ties not counting, while Los Angeles and Baltimore would be .571 on 8-6.

Coach Jack Christiansen of the 49ers declared of the Chicago defeat, "That's the kind of a game you like to see, where the defense gives you touchdowns. Our defensive line was outstanding, too."

KRUEGER STARS

At one point, the defensive line dumped reserve quarterback Larry Rakestraw three straight times for a total loss of 33 yards as Charlie Krueger led the charge.

Offensively, the 49ers had standouts, too. Willard rushed for 58 yards and caught five passes for 92 more. John David Crow ran for 50 and Dave Parks caught six passes for 103 yards.

Brodie hit 16 of 23 passes for 191 yards but Christiansen took him out when the third quarter was still in progress. George Mira ame on and threw a touchdown pass of 24 yards to Kent Kramer and then Bill Kilmer finished up at quarterback.

The 49ers stopped Gale Sayers with just 39 yards but his season's total went to 1,034, first Bear since Rick Casares in 1956 to rush for more than 1,000 yards in a season.

Nothing materialized in the anticipated rematch between Joe Fortunato of the Bears and Monty Stickles of San Francisco who battled in Chicago when the teams tied 30-30.

San Rafael Gains Tournament Finals

San Rafael's rampaging Bulldogs swept into the finals of the Redwood Empire Tournament at Healdsburg and will meet either Healdsburg or Arcata for the championship at 9 o'clock tonight.

The Bulldogs set a tournament game scoring record in swamping Ukiah, 76-49, in a semi-final clash Saturday.

San Rafael, now 4-1, exploded for a 27-9 first-quarter lead and coasted the rest of the way, getting 10 cagers into the scoring column.

TAMALPAIS INDIANS, preseason favorite to cop the Marin County Athletic League basketball title, walked into a double-pronged ambush last weekend.

The Indians who played Davis and Woodland, as did Piedmont, in a two-day double-header, were shot down twice, 58-48 by Davis and 57-53 by Woodland. Piedmont suffered a worse fate, losing 72-61 to Woodland and 94-58 to Davis.

The Indians, playing without Mike Biber who did not make the trip because of a bad back, actually outshot both teams from the floor, but lost the charity game by a mile both times.

Steve Woodward topped Tam scoring with 24 points.

It was much the same thing against Woodland as the Indians held a 22-19 field goal advantage but lost out at the free-throw line, 9-16.

FLORES, POWELL SET RECORDS

Raiders Clinch Second

Independent-Journal Sports

34 Mon., Dec. 12, 1966

OAKLAND (AP)—The dressing stall with "19 Davidson" written on tape above it stood empty —mute testimony to the arrival of Tom Flores as a solid starting quarterback in the American Football League.

Flores stood in the next stall yesterday putting the finishing touches on a knot in his thin brown necktie. He had just led the Oakland Raiders over the Denver Broncos 28-10 with 17 completions in 28 attempts good for 236 yards and three touchdowns.

This clinched at least a tie for second place in the Western Division for the Raiders, who draw a bye for this last week of the regular season. They finished 8-5-1, as good as last year, their second-best finish since the club was founded in 1960.

Flores threw touchdown passes of 46 yards to Art Powell, two yards to Hewritt Dixon and, in the fourth quarter, 45 to Powell. That gave Flores 24 touchdown passes and 2,638 yards gained through the air this season, both club records.

Cotton Davidson, whose records set two years ago had been surpassed, was not available for comment. He had left before the first newsman arrived to ask if he was going to retire.

"I've talked to Cotton and he's perfectly happy," said coach Johnny Rauch. "He indicated to me that he wants to play a lot more pro football. He wants very much to play some more."

"With Oakland?" someone asked.

"Who else?" the coach replied. "We own him."

The 34-year-old Davidson had his best pro season in 1964 but was sidelined almost all last year with a shoulder injury suffered in training camp.

Davidson started the first four games this year and the Raiders lost three. Flores started the next three games—all Raider victories — but couldn't at Boston Oct. 30 because of an injury.

Davidson resumed command and the Raiders lost 24-21. That was the last time Davidson played quarterback. It was Flores all the way, except for brief moments in three easy victories when third - string Charlie Green was used.

"I still consider both of them starters—or have the ability to be starters," said Rauch, a former quarterback himself. "But I had to decide. Tom got hot and you don't change horses in midstream."

Flores used to be accused of always looking for Powell before the Raiders developed other receivers. He found his star end again yesterday because the Broncos were rushing their linebackers in a blitz and could not also give double coverage to Powell.

His touchdown catches gave him 11 for the season and 1,022 yards gained receiving, making Powell the only player in AFL history ever to surpass both the 1,000 - yard and 10 - touchdown marks five seasons.

Before Denver could get untracked, the Raiders had 14 points in the first quarter. A second - quarter field goal by Gary Kroner made it 14-3 but Flores marched the Raiders 75 yards in 15 plays picking up 57 yards passing in the drive that ended with a two-yard scoring flip to Hewritt Dixon nine seconds before halftime.

The 31,765 who watched the game played on the heavy Oakland Coliseum field brought the season attendance to 253,525 in the Raiders' first year in their new stadium.

Lions Ink Irish Ace Nick Eddy

DETROIT (AP) — Nick Eddy, the All-America halfback from Notre Dame, was signed by the Detroit Lions yesterday in hopes he can provide them with a breakaway running threat.

The Lions outbid Denver of the American Football League to sign him to a National Football League contract. Eddy was redshirted one year and was drafted by both clubs last year.

"I want to play football and I wanted security," Eddy said. "I don't care what position I play just so long as I play. I hear the Lions may want to use me as a defensive or flanker back.

"I just wanted to be in the city and league where I would get a chance to play, and Detroit was it," he said.

No one would discuss contract terms, but the money was estimated to be around $250,000.

"We are very happy that Nick has decided to play for the Lions," said Detroit owner William Clay Ford. "While it is our policy not to disclose the salaries of any of our players, we feel that we made Nick a very fair offer.

"He obviously feels the same way."

Notre Dame Coach Ara Parseghian described Eddy as "the most dangerous open field runner I ever have coached. He's a breakaway threat every time he gets past the line of scrimmage. Once he is in the secondary, it takes a great back to bring him down."

Eddy is 6-foot tall and weighs 205. He compiled a 5.6 rushing average at Notre Dame in three years and caught 44 passes for 708 yards. He turned in outstanding performances on kick returns.

Eddy was named the most valuable player on Notre Dame's national championship team and finished third in the voting for the Heisman Award.

CARDS, DALLAS UPSET; PACKERS CLINCH WEST

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Doesn't anybody want to start the New Year with the Green Bay Packers for company?

The Dallas Cowboys, given a clear shot at nailing a Jan. 1 date with the Packers in the National Football League championship game, inadvertently backed off yesterday, bowing to Washington 34-31 on a Charley Gogolak field goal with eight seconds to play.

Neither St. Louis nor Cleveland, however, profited from the Dallas setback. Atlanta's surprising young Falcons upended the punchless Cards 16-10 and Philadelphia, sparked by Al Nelson's 100-yard touchdown burst, ended the Browns' title hopes 33-21.

The Cowboys, assured of no worse than a first-place tie, can take their first division crown if second-place St. Louis stumbles against Cleveland Saturday. Should the Cards beat the Browns, Dallas must either win or tie at New York next Sunday to avert a playoff with St. Louis.

Green Bay clinched its second straight Western Conference title by downing Baltimore 14-10 Saturday and will be the visiting team in the NFL championship battle.

GIANTS CRUSHED

In yesterday's other action, Pittsburgh crushed the defenseless Giants 47-28; San Francisco drubbed Chicago 41-14 and Minnesota trounced Detroit 28-16.

Kansas City nipped Miami 19-18; Boston overwhelmed Houston 38-14; San Diego trimmed New York 42-27 and Oakland smothered Denver 28-10 in American Football League play.

Gogolak's 29-yard feld goal decided a free-wheeling offensive duel between the Redskins, led by veteran passer Sonny Jurgensen, and the explosive Cowboys.

The Cowboys, who had nipped the 'Skins 31-30 in their first meeting on a last-ditch field goal by Danny Villaneuva, appeared to have the rematch sewed up when Don Perkins' six-yard touchdown bolt sent them ahead 31-24 with less than five minutes to play.

But Jurgensen struck back immediately with his third TD pass of the game, a 65-yard bomb to Charley Taylor, and the Redskins pulled it out when A.D. Whitfield broke loose on a 30-yard run to set up Gogolak's soccer-style boot.

Dallas lost quarterback Don Meredith in the second quarter when he was shaken up by a Sam Huff tackle, but subs Jerry Rhome and Craig Morton, who alternated the rest of the way, kept the attack rolling.

Randy Johnston hit Ernie Wheelright with a nine-yard scoring pass, Lou Kirouac kicked three field goals and Atlanta's defense held the sagging Cardinals touchdown-less until the final 64 seconds as the Falcons won their second game in a row and third of the season.

BROWNS ELIMINATED

The Eagles eliminated Cleveland from the Eastern race, scoring three touchdowns — including Nelson's 100-yard gallop with a missed Lou Groza field goal try — in the second period. Sam Baker added four field goals as Philadelphia climbed into a third-place deadlockwith the Browns.

Bill Nelsen fired two touchdown passes and Bill Asbury and rookie Dick Leftridge each ran for two scores in the Steelers' victory over a New York club that now has yielded 484 points — an all-time record. Tom Kennedy passed for four Giant touchdowns, but the Pittsburgh point-barrage doomed New York to the Eastern cellar.

Three touchdown passes by Fran Tarkenton shot Minnesota past the Lions, who tumbled into the Western basement. Jim Phillips, Paul Flatley and Preston Carpenter grabbed Tarkenton payoff tosses.

The Packers won the West Saturday by overcoming a 10-7 Baltimore lead in the closing minutes and then stopping a final Colt drive when linebacker Dave Robinson pounced on a John Unitas fumble at the Green Bay 11.

Zeke Bratkowski, who replaced injured Bart Starr in the second half, engineered the Packers' winning 58-yard march, and Elijah Pitts capped it with a two-yard plunge for his second touchdown of the day.

lop 94 yards to a TD behind some of the prettiest downfield blocking Kezar has ever seen. Randolph, pressed into service when George Donnelly was hurt earlier this year, will be a tough man to get out of his position. Not just off yesterday's run, but because he has matured rapidly in the difficult position.

Movies of yesterday's game should be valuable to the coaches because they can see their entire squad in action. Coach Jack Christiansen cleared his bench of EVERYBODY.

BY USING George Mira and Billy Kilmer in the fourth quarter, the 49ers may have been showing off their reserve quarterback strength to Papa Bear George Halas for a possible trade. Lord knows, Papa can use a capable signal-caller because Rudy Bukich and Billy Wade are over the hill and young Larry Rakestraw hasn't even arrived yet. The latter—who sounds more like a barnyard chore than a quarterback —looked like a straw raker yesterday as on three successive plays he was dumped for 33 yards lost. I feared Rakekstraw wouldn't make the Bears' travelling squad on the return trip home, but Chicago sources assured me this morning he was with the team on last night's flight.

A CLASSIC example of hustle was displayed by (yep) Alexander on Randolp's 2,304-inch run. Kermit laid the first block that enabled Alvin to get up and Kermit made the last block some 90 yards away.

Another double-block, this time by hustler Wayne Swinford, came on Alexander's 44-yard punt return late in the second quarter.

PLAYS LIKE this are why the 49ers still have a chance to reach the Playoff Bowl in Miami next month and why they should be one of the NFL favorites next year. Wait 'til next year!

Alcindor & Co. Romp; Take Two Weeks Off

Next playing dates for the Bruins are Dec. 22, when they host Colorado State, and Dec. 23, when Notre Dame visits them.

Duke came into town with a 1-1 record and ranked No. 7 nationally, but left at 1-3 after two decisive defeats.

Friday night the Bruins dined on Duke, 88-54, even though the Blue Devils limited skyscraping Lew Alcindor to 19 points. But Saturday the 7-1 Alcindor tallied 38 points, and Duke fell, 107-87.

The Blue Devils, who have won 141 of 169 games over the past five years, put three men on the UCLA center Friday, but Mike Warren foiled their strategy with 26 points, and Lucius Allen added 19.

Saturday Duke covered Alcindor with only two men, and he hit 18 of 22 shots from the floor, including a batch of smashing dunk shots. When he wasn't scoring, Alcindor was busy grabbing one of his 22 rebounds.

Allen, who hit 20 points Saturday, and Warren set up Alcindor and Lynn Shackelford with pinpoint passes. Shackelford responded with 22 points, including 10 of 13 from the field.

"Alcindor intimidates you on defense and destroys you on offense...I don't think there's any way you can stop him on a man-

Petaluma Wins Drake Cage Tourney

By ROB HARVEY

In a fashion that makes tournaments worth all the work that goes into them, the Petaluma Trojans courageously fought off the charging Napa Indians Saturday night at Drake High in San Anselmo to win the second annual Drake invitational Basketball Tournament.

And no less deserving were the champs when they received a standing ovation from some 800 admirers after they had pinned a 79-74 pressure-packed verdict on their foes.

Marin's own Drake quint, coached by Carl Brown, added luster to its wheel by upending Montgomery of Santa Rosa 40-39 earlier that evening to win the consolation finals. Drake wound up fifth behind third-place Balboa of San Francisco, 56-42 victor over fourth place Redwood; Terra Linda thumped Novato 61-43 in consolation action to round out the tourney's final slate.

With determination, Petaluma played like a team of engineers with a mission to build a bridge and Napa played like a sabotage crew intent on destroying that bridge which would lead to the championship.

Togive an example of how close it was and how rugged the play from alpha to omega, the score was 23-all at the end of the first quarter. And who else but Trojan Jim Rudolph, the bespectacled 6-2 All-Tournament selection, knotted the count by sinking a pair of chairity tosses through the courtesy of a dual Napa foul in the waning seconds of that period— a personal and the first of two technicals charged to the Indians.

Next Don Smith, the cager who tallied the game's initial bucket, canned a 12-foot jumper to open scoring in the second period, a lead the Petaluma quint relinquished only twice, never by more than a single point. It was 46-41 at the half, Petaluma on top.

The Indians did an excellent job in holding the high-scoring Rudolph to just 7 points, so the burden fell on the shoulders of forward Bob Harfield, who answered with 30 points.

Rudolph led all scorers with 69 points in the three-game series, while Drake's Chet Carlisle had 47; Redwood's Jack Fitzhenry and Andre Horn had 46 and 44 in order; and Terra Linda's Steve Congdon and Paul Lee notched 45 and 41, respectively.

After one minute and eight seconds had elapsed in the third period, Petaluma never again gave up the lead, though it was nip and tuck all tha way to the wire, and it wasn't the fault of Napa's Steve York (25 points) or captain Dave Jones (14 points) or Abe Newman (10 points and 12 rebounds). It was the fault of Hatfield and Don Smith (14 points) and captain Rudolph (13 rebounds) and Ray Volker (12 points and 15 rebounds).

by Overlid, they were 22 points behind as Ames and Foster went wild.

With the Tars trailing by 21 midway in the last half, Ames pushed in three straight fielders, and Fontaine dumped in a couple of jumpers to put it under lock and key for a 71-43 lead.

The Beaver brought in their subs but things got no better for the Tars. The River subs missed only two shots while making seven and padded the final margin.

Ashe Upset In Aussie Tennis

ADELAIDE, Australia (AP) — Arthur Ashe of Richmond, Va., the No. 1 foreign seed, was upset today by Ray Ruffels, seeded eighth among the Australians, in the men's singles of the South Australian Tennis Championships.

Ruffels won the tension-packed third round men's singles match 6-0, 10-8, 3-6, 6-4.

Gusty winds hampered the players, especially the visitors, and Charles Pasarell of Puerto Rico was the lone American to win his third-round men's singles match. Cliff Richey of Dallas, Jim McManus of Berkeley, Calif., and Allen Fox of Los Angeles all went down to defeat.

Pasarell eliminated Bill Bowrey of Australia 6-3, 3-6, 6-2, 6-1. Australian Owen Davidson ousted Rickey 6-2, 8-6, 6-3. Fred Stolle, the No. 2 Australian seed, sidelined McManus 6-4, 6-0, 6-3. Australian Tony Roche disposed of Fox 10-8, 6-1, 6-2.

Americans Nancy Richey and Rosemary Casals posted third-round victories. Miss Richey, brother of Cliff, defeated Australia's Evonne Goolagong 6-1, 6-0 and Miss Casals, of San Francisco, beat Jan O'Neill of Australia 6-1, 1-6, 6-4.

Roy Emerson, top-seeded Australian, turned back Britain's Mark Cox 6-4, 6-3, 6-0 and No. 3 ranked John Newcombe of Australia downed Claude de Gronkel of Belgium 6-4, 6-3, 4-6, 6-1.

Ashe, the defending champion, was hampered by not playing with his own racket. The racket had been sent away to be restrung two days ago, and had not been returned in time for the match.

Nevertheless, Ashe refused to take any credit away from young Ruffels and said, "Roy played magnificently."

Ashe started playing with a racket he borrowed from Stolle, then he used one belonging to McManus. He returned to Stolle's racket and later used one of Emerson's.

'Little' All-America Is Star In Camellia

SACRAMENTO (AP) — For the record, it's "college" division football and the top men are "Little" All-America. But on the field it can be a wide-open pro-like spectacle of the blitz and the bomb.

In Saturday's Camellia Bowl, for example, San Diego State's Little All-American quarterback Don Horn threw passes on the first three plays of the game — all from within his own 20 yard line.

The Bobcats of Montana State, Big Sky Conference champs, blitzed Horn on the first try for a six-yard loss. So, the Aztecs moved to a shotgun formation and Horn fired from a protective pocket to all over the field for the next 40 minutes. He completed 22 passes in 37 attempts for 335 yards and four touchdowns. A substitute took over for the fourth quarter.

That gave San Diego State, the nation's top-ranked small college team, a 28-7 victory over third-ranked Montana State and the Pacific Coast NCAA college division title in the regionally televised game.

Some may have scoffed last week when Horn said his goal was a $300,000 bonus to sign with a pro team, and that he'd hire an attorney to do the bargaining. But one National Football League team scout watched Hor Saturday and sighed "We would love to have him."

Horn threw touchdown tosses of 50, 32, 22 and 12 yards and was a unanimous choice as player of the game. San Diego State ended the year with an 11-0 record to the Bobcat's 8-3.

Montana State's own Little All-America, halfback Don Hass, a junior, rushed for 88 yards on a slippery, muddy turf, but only once could the Bobcats muster a sustained touchdown drive.

In the final moment reserve quarterback Russ Dodge, a sophomore, got the Bobcats on the scoreboard with a one-yard sneak. That gave Norwegian Jan Stenerud his only chance to kick the ball all day, after booting a record 11 field goals and 49 conversions during the season.

Already drafted as a red-shirt player last year, Stenerud planned to negotiate this week with Kansas City of the American Football League and Atlanta of the NFL.

Palmer Shatters All-Time Money Record—$154,692

By DON NORTH

PALM BEACH GARDENS, Fla. (AP) — Arnold Palmer, favorite son of Latrobe, Pa., will be honored at a Chamber of Commerce banquet there today, and for openers he can state that he's won more money in one season than any golfer in history.

Palmer cracked the dollar mark Saturday after pairing with Jack Nicklaus to win the $50,000 first prize in the PGA National Team Championship, a tournament which set a record itself as the richest ever with purses totaling $275,000.

Palmer's $25,000 share of the purse boosted his earnings to $154,692 on the U.S. tour this year, enabling him to steal the one-year money crown from Nichlaus by some $346. Nichlaus won $154,346 two years ago and this year has amassed a total of $140,635.

And so far as official earnings go — money won in PGA — sanctioned tournaments only — the 26-year-old Nicklaus still is king with $140,752.

The Palmer-Nicklaus combination clipped three strokes off the team championship record with a 72-hole total of 256—32 under par. In rounds of 63-66-63-64, they shattered the 1965 mark of defending champions Gay Brewer Jr. and Butch Baird, who came in 29 under with 259.

While they have teamed to win three Canada Cup competitions, it was their first U.S. win as a team, and they now stand a most-respectable 4-1 as partners. And they plan to stay together in team play.

"I'm not going to let him (Palmer) get away," said Nicklaus. Palmer agreed. "I'm getting older and I might need a younger horse some day," he said. Palmer is 37.

The two said they enjoyed the idea of team competition. "It was a fun tournament," said Nicklaus. "This is the type of play where both of us can take chances."

The PGA team championship was inaugurated last year with purses worth $125,000. Palmer and Nicklaus came in seventh and pocketed $2,100 each.

Doug Sanders and Al Besselink, who collected $13,500 each for second place, three strokes back at 259, said they relied on each other in the tight spots.

"I played the best golf I've ever played," said the tall, blond Besselink. "But I had a lot of confidence in every shot I hit because I knew Doug would be right there to save me if I missed."

Sanders said if it had been individual competition, "Bessie would have won this tournament by six shots." They carded rounds of 65-62-67-66.

Ray Floyd and Billy Maxwell were third, sharing $9,500, with a score of 67-66-66-63—262.

The Cupit brothers, Jacky and Buster, fired the best round of the tournament on the third day when they combined for 61 and set a record on the difficult, 6,896-yard east course.

It's Home Sweet Home For Warriors

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The Cincinnati Royals get another shot at San Francisco, the NBA's Western Division leader, here tomorrow night and the odds are really stacked against them.

The Warriors are making a habit of winning on their own soil.

San Francisco picked up its 11th consecutive home win Saturday night when it dropped the Royals 123-120 in overtime. The victory stretched the Warriors' division lead over Detroit to 6½ games.

Rick Barry, the NBA's hottest shooter, paced the Warriors in their win with 36 points. Ex-Warrior Connie Dierking and rookie Bob Love led the Royals with 26 each.

After tomorrow night's battle at Civic Auditorium, San Francisco will be idle until Saturday when the club hosts the tough Boston Celtics who are in the No. 2 spot in the Eastern Division.

INCOME TAX FACTS

Remember, That Time About Here

By PETER JAMES WIKEL, C.P.A.

Taxes seem a long way off right now, but they will be here before you know it. Actually we have to live with taxes every day of our lives and if we want to pay only our share we must keep accurate records and so shape our daily affairs to produce the lowest tax result.

Wikel

For the first time automatic data processing will be checking California residents' federal tax returns. California residents are the last ones to go onto this system and we can expect a lot more checking than ever before.

Returns will be checked to:

1. Be sure you have filed.
2. Check arithmetic.
3. See if you owe any back taxes before paying out your refund.
4. Check to be sure you are not getting more than one refund.
5. Select for audit any return that: (A) Has high deductions; (B) Has unusual deductions; (C) Does not match information returns filed by your employer (W-2), payors of dividends, interest, rent, etc. (1099) and others; (D) Does not match up with prior years, etc.

Since we can expect more audits from now on, it becomes even more important to keep good records, retain cancelled checks and paid bills with your copies of your tax returns; and be sure to do the return accurately.

Judge Learned Hand said: "Over and over again courts have said that there is nothing sinister in so arranging one's affairs as to keep taxes as low as possible. Everyone does so, rich and poor, and all do right, for nobody owes any public duty to pay more than the law demands, taxes are enforced exactions, not voluntary contributions."

These columns are intended to help you in a general way and to point out tax saving possibilities that may be open to you. If you have a specific problem you should consult your tax advisor as early as possible.

There may be some things that you should do now, before the end of 1966, that would make a big difference in your 1966 tax bill, that is, what you have to pay, or the refund you will receive. Future columns will tell you what these things are. Watch for them.

OAKLAND — SFO Helicopter Airlines established a new passenger traffic record of 20,008 passengers for November, announced Ray Foster, vice President of sales.

This is a 40 per cent increase over passenger traffic in November 1965.

MORRIS MINOR IS BACK

This little car, one of England's most popular vehicles, has not been featured in American showrooms since 1963. With the demand for small foreign cars gaining ground, British Motor Cars was prompted to enter it again in this market. E. F. ## SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Good Growth Stocks After Building Savings

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. "I have a small savings account, $50,000 in life insurance, a few stocks, including American Telephone. I am 39; my annual income of $20,000 should increase. I can invest $5,000 each year and would like to start a program in long-term growth stocks. What is your opinion of the following: American Airlines; Anaconda; Kennecott; Standard of California; Westinghouse Electric; International Telephone; R.C.A.; SCM Corporation? I am also interested in a pharmaceutical, if you will suggest one." L. A.

A. The program you outlined seems generally sound for a man in your strong financial position. I believe your first move should be to increase your savings account to a level where all possible future contingencies will be provided for. I advise you thereafter to buy only issues with clearly defined growth prospects.

In this category—among the stocks you have listed—I prefer California Standard, International Telephone and R.C.A. As a broadly based pharmaceutical for strong growth, I like Merck & Co.

Q. "We bought Winn-Dixie Stores and Consolidated Edison for our 12-year-old son's education. Should we hold these and how should we invest $2,000 in new money?" H. P.

A. You are farsighted people to plan ahead for your son's future. Winn-Dixie is currently depressed—as are other food-chain stocks—due to rising expenses and competition. This issue had one of the best records in its group and I would retain it.

I would switch Consolidated Edison — a rather slow utility— into American Electric Power. Your new money should do well over a period of time in Consolidated Foods, a Chicago-based distributor of food products. The future growth rate here appears to be steady and predictable at about ten per cent a share annually on present operations.

Stocks Up For Fifth Session

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market closed higher today in heavy trading. It was the fifth straight session on the upside.

An optimistic statement by General Motors about car sales and some favorable comments about oils as investments helped fuel the rise.

GM common was up about 2 in late dealings, as was Du Pont.

Texaco, Ford and Chrysler showed gains of a point or so late in the day.

Steels moved upward late in the day. U.S. Steel, Republic, Bethlehem and Jones & Laughlin were up about a point or so in the closing minutes.

Volume for the day was estimated at 9.2 million shares compared with 7.81 million Friday.

The market rose from the start in a continuation of last week's major advance. Autos were helped by an optimistic statement from General Motors Chairman Federic G. Donner about 1967 car sales. Oils were bolstered by favorable Wall Street comment.

Xerox rose 7, Fairchild Camera about 6, Superior Oil nearly 9 points, Motorola 4, IBM 3, KLM 3½, Texas Oil & Gas, Boeing and Pan American World Airways about 2 each.

Plea For Human Rights Transcends All Nations

Saturday, Dec. 10, was the 18th anniversary of world Human Rights Day.

On Dec. 10, 1948, the General Assembly of the United Nations proclaimed the Universal Declaration of Human Rights, a document that sets forth ideals that are strikingly in accord with American concepts.

It speaks of a "world in which human beings shall enjoy freedom of speech and belief and freedom from fear and want."

It reaffirms faith in the dignity and worth of the human person and proclaims that "everyone is entitled to all the rights and freedoms set forth in this Declaration without distinction of any kind, such as race, colour, sex, language, religion, political or other opinion, national or social origin, property, birth or other status."

It sets forth equality before the law. "Everyone is entitled to a fair and public hearing by an independent and impartial tribunal . . . and has the right to be presumed innocent until proved guilty . . . "

Despite the many setbacks that the United Nations has suffered in its attempt to settle world diferences, the fact that the world's peoples, representing a myriad of racial and cultural backgrounds, have been able to agree on the value of individual liberty and human dignity provides some measure of hope that areas of agreement can be extended.

Joseph J. Sisco, assistant secretary for International Organization Affairs, warned that too much cannot be expected from the United Nations too soon.

"I believe the beginning of wisdom lies in being neither a pessimist nor an optimist — but in being a 'possibilist'," he told a foreign policy conference in Atlanta, Ga., last April.

"A possibilist does not start out with extravagant expectations. He is not disillusioned when he encounters setbacks. He seeks limited goals. He is patient. He keeps probing for possibilities. The history of our efforts to achieve a peaceful settlement of the Viet Nam problem illustrates this dramatically."

The Declaration of Universal Human Rights is an expression of man's search for the ideal. Promises set forth in the declaration certainly have not been all attained. The job is to narrow the gap between the promises and actual performance.

The U.N. needs American participation and leadership if those promises are to be met.

The fact that President Johnson asked a Supreme Court Justice to leave the bench to represent us in the U.N. forum shows the measure of importance he attaches to the United Nations.

Despite its limitations, the U.N. is the best hope for worldwide cooperation and understanding.

As "possibilist" Sisco declared:

"It is no longer our national community alone but a whole generation of mankind for whom these promises must be kept. They must be kept if we are to preserve this planet—this fragile spaceship we share—from the ever-brooding threat of annihilation."

More About Holly

It has been brought to our attention that the Father of Our Country was one of the early American admirers of holly. He mentioned holly frequently in his diaries and planted numerous seedlings at Mount Vernon.

Washington was a perceptive man and he knew that holly had a male and female form, and that the female required a male nearby to produce berries. Being a practial farmer, he put both in every hole he dug for holly planting.

It has been suggested that Washington's false teeth were made of holly wood.

Reagan Claims Taxpayers Back His Policy For Campus Control

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Aides of Governor-elect Ronald Reagan reported recently that his office is receiving overwhelming support of his stand on conduct of the university of California. The governor-elect said:

"No one is compelled to attend the University. Those who do attend should accept and obey the prescribed rules, or get out."

He also pointed out that the voice of the taxpayers who finance this institution of higher education hasn't been heard during the unrest at the university, and declared it's time that voice is heard. And, according to the Reagan aides, the voice is being heard.

THE UNIVERSITY regents at a recent meeting were said to adopt a "get tough" policy as students ended a strike on a note of threatening to start the activities all over again.

Whether the so-called "get tough" policy is tough enough to suit the taxpayers, remains to be seen. The regents resolved that all university staff identified with future strikes be fired from their jobs, and denied re-employment.

However, no action was taken regarding the student strikers, who under a really tough policy of administration, normally would be expelled or be subject to some other drastic discipline.

AS THE RESULT of some under-cover work on the university campus, performed by persons well qualified to do such work, it was learned that the so-called student movement, engendered by outside agitators, would force the revolt to the point where the university would have to be closed down temporarily. This, it is anticipated, would result in timid and uncommitted students leaving the university and failing to return when it re-opened. Thus, the activist students would be in control, with capitulation of administration.

It also was learned that a behind-the-scenes movement exists to call off all examinations for the current quarter and reschedule them for later, or assign automatic grades. The reasoning of students and non-students participating in the unrest is that students have not had time to prepare for examinations as the educational process has been interefered with.

LOGICALLY, IT would not seem possible that either of these agitator objectives could be achieved under a "tough" policy of the administration, but even the fact that the objectives exist at all brings home what Reagan said during his campaign, which was that a "leadership gap" exists in administration of the university.

He also pointed out that to preserve academic freedom, the state must preserve the right to learn, as well as to make sure that the principal purpose of the university is to provide education for thousands of young men and women go there for that purpose.

A Doctor's Views Of Beginning Life

Editor, Independent-Journal:

The news stories on Miss Maginnis' abortion classes have led to a spate of letters, sentimentally indignant at this advocation of "murder of unborn babies." One could also wax sentimental about some of the plights in which women can find themselves because of an undesired pregnancy, (and I wonder just how often the news of pregnancy is received with real joy by women, the custom of congratulations notwithstanding), but I would rather make another point.

A several week old infant is NOT a baby, any more than an egg is a chicken. It has the POTENTIAL to become a baby, if everything works out all right. But if there is some severe defect in the fetus itself or in the uterine wall, it may be miscarried. This is spoken of medically as a "spontaneous abortion." A number of these occur so early that the woman is unaware of being pregnant, and merely notices that her period was early or late.

This idea of an early fetus being the same as, or equivalent to a real baby rests on the concept that "life" begins (and the soul enters) at the time of conception, i.e., when the sperm meets the egg. This is not of biblical derivation, and in fact was not even official Catholic Church dogma until 1869, when it was so decided by Pius IX, a most conservative Pope. Prior to that date the official belief was that life began for boys on the 40th day after conception, while for girls not until the 80th day.

Now there is no doubt that the fetus is alive, and that fertilization (the meeting of the sperm and egg) is an essential step in the development of a baby, but the "aliveness" did not begin at conception. The sperm and the egg were each separately alive before they met. No baby will ever result from a dead sperm or a dead ova. Hence, life can be more truly said to continue than to begin. Does this mean that we should shift our sentiment back from a sacrosanct fetus to a sacrosanct sperm or ovum? That would seem ridiculous, since nature, in its regard for the preservation of every species, has allowed for tremendous wastage in sex cells. In the case of man, millions of sperm are made in a lifetime, and very few of these are going to meet their potential as future babies.

Considering the above facts, I submit the following: That the fertilized ova is something more important, more holy, if you will) than its preceeding parts; that as the cells multiply and the fetus grows, as it attains movement in the uterus, it becomes still more important, for it is becoming closer to its potential. And that when that fetus has had time to attain viable characteristics and is delivered into the air, when the cord is cut and it is an independent breathing organism, then it is a baby and fully sacrosanct.

This is simply a systemization of that which most people sense. A million American women have abortions every year, who would never dream of killing a living baby. A large majority of the medical profession in our state is on record as favoring elective abortion under certain circumstances. Are we baby murderers, or have we just put the fertilized ovum in a more rational perspective?

Another Protest On Classes For Abortion

Editor, Independent-Journal:

I would like to add my voice of protest along with those who speak out against Miss Maginnis' classes on do-it-yourself abortions and the like. I was very surprised to learn that these classes were being allowed to take place.

I happened to see one of the leaflets advertising Miss Maginnis' classes on abortion and was shocked with the contents. I seriously doubted that the classes would be allowed. But they are. Isn't abortion against the law? Aren't classes of this nature wrong? They are from where I sit.

All this talk these days about abortion — about our abortion laws being archaic or old-fashioned; if they are, I say thank God we have such old-fashioned archaic laws. We need these laws badly to protect life, not to destroy life.

Let us leave well enough alone, and direct our efforts toward putting ourselves in order; to think and act carefully and constructively—being responsible and in so doing being at peace with ourselves.

Unwanted Children Versus Abortions

Editor, Independent-Journal:

You have printed emotional diatribes against the brave woman who distributed information about abortions; it seems only fair to show another side to the story.

The power of choice is supposed to put us humans on a higher plane than animals who can only follow their instincts. This power implies an obligation to make wise use of the privilege, not to delegate it to some bachelor thousands of miles away who can know nothing of individual circumstances.

It is no privilege to be born into tragic conditions. Every woman should be allowed to choose whether to inflict an abnormal child on society, or whether to inflict life on a child who would be handicapped by mental, physical, or financial inadequacy.

Millions of years ago, when man was told to "be fruitful and multiply and replenish the earth" he was given little power of choice on that detail, and he certainly multiplied past the point of misery and starvation! Times have changed. Until we can colonize other planets, we would do well to concentrate on improving overcrowded conditions here.

I'm very pleased and thankful about the many grandchildren I do have. I'm equally pleased and thankful for the grandchildren I do NOT have. Certainly contraceptives are to be preferred to abortions, but abortions are to be preferred to inflicting life where it can only add to the sum-total of human misery.

THE DISTINGUISHED Arkansan, Brooks Hays, tells of the new preacher assigned to a backwoods church. His first sermon, condemning horse racing, fell flat as a pancake. A deacon admonished him, "You reckless young fool, this area is noted for its fine horses and many members of this very congregation earn their livelihood in the sport of kings." The next week, the new preacher enlarged upon the evils of smoking, only to incur the wrath of tobacco growers thereabouts. And the third Sunday, when he ranted about the evils of whiskey drinking, he discovered there was a big distillery less than five miles from his church.

Frustrated, he wailed, "What CAN I preach about here?" "Preach agin them heathen witch doctors," advised the deacon. "There ain't one of them within a thousand miles of us!"

LITTLE CLAUDIA, in the first grade, coyly admitted to her parents that she had been kissed in school that day by one Jonathan Buffum. "Is Jonathan in your class?" asked her father, concealing a grin. "No, he's an older man," confided Claudia. "He's in the second grade."

Republican Governors Gather To Nurture Newfound Muscles

COLORADO SPRINGS—The Republican governors are coming to life again. They need to.

They were so ineffective in 1964 that they melted into the scenery. But now they are setting out to recapture a role in national GOP affairs equal to their newly won political power.

This is the dominant reason the incumbent Republican governors, together with the 10 new governors-elect from Winthrop Rockefeller of Arkansas to Ronald Reagan of California, met here in a special let's-not-let-it-happen-again session.

THEY MET here primarily to make common cause. Their common causes are these:

1—To turn the anemic, almost hollow Republican Governors Assn. into a powerful instrument for helping to shape the national policies and the national image of the Republican party.

2—To set up an effective liaison with the GOP Congressional leadership so that different Republican Governors will be invited to testify at Washington hearings whenever legislation affecting state and local government is being considered.

3—To enlarge their representation on the Republican Coordinating Committee which is now pretty much dominated by Congressional members.

4.—To staff their Washington headquarters at high enough level and with talented research people so the Governors can be on top of major issues and advocate their views effectively.

THESE ARE valid goals and are attainable. But perhaps not everybody realizes how much competition and jealousy there have been between the legislative leaders and the governors of both parties. There is a strong tendency among congressmen to want to keep the governors pretty silent and sidelined as far as legislative policy is concerned and these governors do not intend to be sidelined and silent.

It would be a grave mistake if they did because no party which has been out of office as long as the Republicans have in the last 34 years can afford to leave a single asset unused.

The stimulating results of the November election rightly give the GOP new hope and faith but it shouldn't produce any euphoria. The Republican party remains a minority in the Senate, a minority in the House of Representatives, and a minority among the nation's voters who are 2-to-1 Democratic or independent. Without the Presidency the Republicans have no center of power or policy direction.

THIS IS WHY the GOP cannot afford to throw away any assets and the governors, now ruling in 25 states comprising more than half the population, can be a powerful political force if they find a way to act together, to speak out, and to unite their influence with the Congressional Republicans.

The governors are going to find less resistance from their congressional colleagues than they might have expected. House Minority Leader Gerald Ford of Michigan came to invite the governors to offer ideas for the party's legislative program and to make it clear that he, for one, will welcome the governors playing a larger role in party policy.

But the GOP governors, who run every big state in the nation except Illinois and Texas, are not going to be shy. They are thinking in large terms.

As Gov. John H. Chafee of Rhode Island sees it, the governors must "become an influential voice in the Republican Party," should soon start working on the 1968 national platform and get ready to "select the best possible national candidate."

THE GOVERNORS constitute the real powerhouse of the Republican Party. The more they speak out on national affairs, the better.

FBI Draws Kudos For Dominican Successes

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — Critics of the FBI's surveillance of the Dominican Republic embassy are assailing one of the most successful national security operation in years.

Intelligence developed by the FBI during the 1965 Dominican crisis is authoritatively credited with undermining the Communists' attempted seizure of control.

ONE HIGH-PLACED official, who closely advised President Johnson at the time, termed the FBI's day-to-day reports the "lifeblood of U.S. negotiations and policy." Throughout the tense Dominican crisis the FBI kept the White House fully informed of all the Communists' plans and movements.

The agency's information was so accurate and detailed that at the peak of the crisis, the President ordered Director J. Edgar Hoover to extend his intelligence operations to the Dominican Republic.

Twenyt-one FBI agents, including 11 espionage specialists, were immediately flown to Santo Domingo. Other agents were dispatched to Puerto Rico to keep a close watch on former President Juan Bosch and his lieutenants.

Bosch's covert dealings and discussions with rebel leaders, among them known Communists, were reported to Washington almost as soon as they took place.

DETAILS OF this dramatically effective intelligence operation must remain secret for security reasons, but the crucial importance of the FBI role was revealed by Director Hoover, testifying behind closed doors before a House Appropriations Subcommittee.

REPRESENTATIVE John Rooney, D-N.Y., committee chairman, raised the question of the FBI's use of wiretapping in national security cases.

"The use of wiretaps is highly restricted with a tight central control," replied Hoover. "Each must be authorized in advance and in writing by the attorney general. All those in operation are in connection with matters in which the internal security of the country is involved."

Both Sen. Robert Kennedy, D-N.Y., and Undersecretary of State Nicholas Katzenbach, when they were attorney general, approved the FBI's surveillance of the Dominican embassy — although neither has volunteered this information either to the courts or the press.

Not only that, but the Rooney subcommittee has testimony that Katzenbach, since moving to the State Department, has attempted to curb the FBI's intelligence efforts abroad.

THE JOHNSON administration is taking two widely different positions on those private boycotts being organized against supermarkets around the country.

The boycotts against higher food prices are being supported. Those against the sale of Communist food products are being vigorously opposed.

A 20-page State Department booklet warns that "any organization, however patriotic in intention, that undertakes to boycott, any American business for engaging in peaceful trade with the Eastern European countries or the Soviet Union, is acting against the interest of the U.S."

Thank Goodness, There's Only One Columnist In The Family

There are some days, and last Tuesday was one of them, when you wonder why you ever got into the newspaper business.

You see, on Monday there was a morning-long banter of words by county supervisors as they debated whether or not to take a chance with the Brown Act and hold a closed session. They eventually, after three hours, decided not to do it.

More words were issued the rest of that day from the Marin planning commissioners. It was nearly 7 p.m. when blessed silence finally reigned at Civic Center.

TUESDAY, HOWEVER, dawned with a burst of fresh verbiage as the supervisors vocalized for their regular session. They were so full of talk, they took just half an hour for lunch before turning themselves on again. (A frightful practice growing more frequent).

Again, the niagara of words did not run dry until nearly 7 p.m.

IT IS A TERRIBLE business when you can only listen and cannot fight back. Why should anyone get into such a business?

Well, there is always the solace of home fires, but on this particular day, Tuesday, Dec. 6, 1966, there was frightening news waiting at home. There was solid evidence that daughter, Jenny, 10, was getting in practice to become a columnist.

It looked like she was not going to be one of those inocuous kind that tell what has happened, either. She was aspiring to be one of the kind that tell the readers how they should behave on each and every occasion, particularly on matters of etiquette.

THIS WAS THE evidence:

"101 word composition on how ladies should act.

"I think ladies should act like this:

"They should not dye their hair.

"If they are secretaries, they should not sit on desks at any time (last three words underlined).

"They should not giggle at operas or concerts, and they should not cry or scream at movies.

"They should not come home from a two-hour dinner party at 6:30 in the morning.

"Do not laugh in class

"Do not swear at people.

"Do not spit at people.

"Respect your elders all the time.

"By Jenny Lyttle"

Happily, it was soon explained that Jenny was not practicing to be one of those kind of columnists after all. She had simply done an assignment for her physical education class at school.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION? Well, er, you see, some of the kids had been acting up a little bit and, you see, the teacher, asked everyone to go home and write a theme on, er, how ladies should act, see?

The Way The Movie Folks See Reagan's State Money Problems

LOS ANGELES — Gov.-elect Ronald Reagan has just been informed that California faces a $700 million deficit after he takes office next year. As soon as he received the news the former actor did what anyone in his profession would have done. He called in some top people from Hollywood who had helped him during his campaign and asked their advice.

"GENTLEMEN," said Reagan. "I've just been advised that Pat Brown has left me with a deficit of $700 million."

The head of a studio said, "I see it more as a straight comedy with Ronnie arriving at the state capital as a clean fresh young politician who means well but gets caught up in a series of mishaps and finally with the help of Doris Day saves California from being turned over to Richard Widmark."

"LET'S BE SERIOUS for a moment," Reagan said. "This isn't a movie. It's for real. Where am I going to get $700 million?"

A screen writer said, "What about this? You're the governor and a syndicate run by Edward G. Robinson comes to you and says they'll give you $700 million if they can open a gambling casino on Sunset Strip. You throw Robinson out of your office and he vows the mob will get you if it's the last thing they do.

"Then you call up Efrem Zimbalist Jr. and tell him the whole story. Zimbalist gets Chuck Connors to join the mob as an undercover agent.

"But Jack Palance recognizes Connors as an FBI man and just when they're about to knock him off, John Wayne arrives and together with Connors they knock out the whole gang. And Ronnie, as governor, sends everyone to the gas chamber."

"PLEASE FELLOWS," Reagan said, "it sounds great but a picture like that won't make $700 million even if Julie Andrews played my wife."

"Ronnie's right," a director said. "He'll never make it in one movie. But what about a television series? Ronnie plays the governor of a large state —we won't say which one—but everyone will know.

"Each episode will concern itself with the problem of a guy trying to do the right thing. But he's up against a rotten system left there by a previous administration.

"This is just off the top of my head, but suppose the students at the state university hold a demonstration against the administration. Ronnie calls up the National Guard commanded by Maj. Gen. Glenn Ford. The general's son, Sal Mineo, is a private who was a coward in Viet Nam. But Mineo is going to prove himself to his father who has nothing but contempt for him. So Sal jumps out of his foxhole and attacks the university walls single-handed. He wipes out the entire English department before he is cut down by a Student for Democratic Action. At the end of the program Ronnie presents Ford with the Legion of Merit awarded to Mineo posthumously by a grateful people, and Ford is no longer ashamed of his son."

REAGAN SAID, "I like it, but can we come up with 39 episodes as good as this one?"

"Of course we can. We may not make $700 million the first time around, but if the series is any good we'll get the dough out of the reruns."

"I was hoping there was some easier way of raising the money," Reagan said wistfully.

"Well," said a make-up man, "you could always raise taxes."

"Are you crazy? said Reagan's press agent. "Do you want to wreck Ronnie's good guy image overnight?"
